MANAGEMENT'S REPORT

Financial Market Review October 2024 - September 2025<sup>(1)</sup>

Economic context

October 2024 was characterized by strong growth, moderating inflation, and a cooling labor market in the US. In November, the key event was the US Presidential Elections, which saw Donald Trump and the Republican party register a clean sweep by winning the White House, Senate, and House of Representatives. Tariffs on exports to the US, a clampdown on illegal immigration, extension of Tax Cuts and Jobs Act (TCJA), boosts to US gas and oil drilling, and deregulation were the key pillars of Trump's economic and foreign policy agenda throughout the campaign.

Aside from economic data, the key event in January 2025 was the inauguration speech of the newly elected President Trump. Going into the event, market participants were worried about the announcement of tariffs. However, a lack of any concrete details on tariffs led to short-term relief, which helped risk assets. In February, major developed market central banks, excluding the Bank of Japan, continued to point towards a gradual easing of interest rates as they approached their estimates of neutral policy rates and inflation remained above target.

In March, weaker US activity data, especially business and consumer surveys, coupled with further increases in trade policy uncertainty weighed on risk sentiment. The US Federal Reserve (Fed) revised down its growth estimate and revised up its inflation estimate for 2025. In Europe, Germany launched a significant fiscal package (defense and infrastructure) to support growth and bolster national security.

Tariff-related news drove financial markets in April as macroeconomic data took a backseat. On April 2, the Trump administration announced a 10% tariff on most trading partners, barring Canada and Mexico, along with country-specific reciprocal tariffs, which were higher than market expectations and to be effective from April 9, 2025. In June, the labor market data in the US, although softer, remained sufficiently healthy to alleviate recession concerns. This positive sentiment was bolstered by weaker inflation data, which heightened expectations for rate cuts from the FOMC.

Risk sentiment remained firm in July as the US administration extended a 90-day deadline from 9th July to 1st August and then announced tariff agreements with major trading partners over the next few weeks. While the news on trade policy remained volatile, the Trump administration proceeded quickly on the fiscal policy front, passing the "One Big Beautiful Bill Act", which could be positive for US growth in 2026 due to fiscal tailwinds and would likely keep deficits elevated.

The release of US labor market data in early August revealed a notable deceleration in labor demand, largely attributable to substantial negative revisions to job growth figures for May and June. Political events in France heightened focus on the country's debt consolidation efforts and put continued upward pressure on its long-term government bond yields i.e. the 10yr Franco-German spread moved up by +13bps in August, marking its biggest monthly jump since June 2024, back when President Macron made the announcement for a snap legislative election. Risk sentiment was bolstered in September by stronger-than-expected US activity data and the Fed's resumption of its easing cycle.

Monetary Policy

China's coordinated policy support continued in October 2024 with rate cuts and fiscal plans to address local government debt, idle land and property purchases. In the US, to balance the risks to its inflation and employment mandate, the Fed lowered its policy rate further by 25bps in November. However, the Fed did not provide any strong forward guidance and refrained to comment on the implications of the new US government policies on the monetary policy path going forward. 2024 concluded with US growth continuing to look healthy, downside risks in Europe and China via trade, central banks signaling that the pace of easing could be more gradual going forward, and the BoJ awaiting further confirmation of improvement in underlying wage growth and price increases.

On the monetary policy front, 2025 began with the ECB reducing its policy rate in January by 25bps to 2.75%, in line with expectations. Mirroring the trend in 2024, the Bank of Japan remained an outlier and raised policy rate by 25bps to 0.5%. In the UK, BoE cut rates by 25bps, as expected, at its February meeting, while Europe flash composite Purchasing Managers' Indexes (PMIs) were stable. In China, manufacturing activities rose to a three-month high, signaling expansion in the sector. In March, the Fed left rates unchanged and signaled that there is no rush to cut rates if the labor market is healthy.

Amid April's elevated tariff uncertainty, Chair Powell noted that the Fed was not in a hurry to cut rates and stated that the FOMC is well positioned to wait for greater clarity given a highly uncertain outlook. Across the border, the Bank of Canada held policy rate at 2.75%, which was widely anticipated. The ECB cut rates by 25bps, in line with market pricing. The ECB Governing Council noted that the growth outlook has deteriorated due to trade uncertainty, and the Euro area was facing a negative demand shock.

In May, the Fed remained steady and kept rates unchanged, waiting for more clarity on trade and fiscal policy. In Asia, the BoJ decided to maintain its policy rate at 0.5%, in line with expectations, and revised down its economic and price outlook for 2025 and 2026. With no major surprises in inflation and labor market data, the Fed maintained its stance during the June meeting. The median projection in the Summary of Economic Projections (SEP) indicated two fed funds rate cuts in 2025, unchanged from March. In Europe, the highlight in June was the German budget draft proposal, which signaled a more frontloaded fiscal boost. Earlier in the month, the ECB cut its policy rate by 25bps as expected. Lower unemployment rate and higher core inflation kept the Fed in a wait and see mode in its July meeting. The Bank of Canada, European Central Bank, and Bank of Japan all remained on hold.

In August, Fed Chair Powell struck a dovish note at Jackson Hole, saying that the labor market was "not particularly tight and faces increasing downside risks". Meanwhile, the Fed was in the spotlight for other reasons, as President Trump moved to oust Lisa Cook from the Fed's Board of Governors. That led to renewed market concern about the Fed's independence, and meant investors priced in faster inflation and a steeper yield curve. The unemployment rate edged up from 4.2% to 4.3% in August 2025. As anticipated, the FOMC cut policy rates by 25bps in September, setting the federal funds rate target range at 4.00%-4.25%, and indicated the potential for further easing in 2025.

Bond Markets

The bond market took center stage in October 2024 as macro data showed signs of resilience and election related uncertainties remained elevated. Fixed income markets across major economies sold off with the Bloomberg US Aggregate Index underperforming the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Index. In November, the US 10Y yield fell 10bps, the UK 10Y fell 20bps and the German 10Y by 30bps. Developed market bond yields went up in December with the US and the UK 10Y yield rising by 35bps each. The German 10Y yield was up 25bps while the Japanese 10Y yield was up a modest 6bps.

The US 10Y yield was unchanged in January. A 25bps hike by the BoJ and slightly hawkish stance led to a 14bps rise in the Japanese 10Y yield. In February the US 10Y yield was down 34bps through the month despite a higher-than-expected Core CPI print, as weaker growth coupled with higher uncertainty overshadowed higher inflation. The Japanese 10Y yield rose from 1.24% to 1.37% as the BoJ remained the only major central bank tightening monetary policy. In Europe, yields were relatively subdued with the UK 10Y yield up by 5bps whereas the German 10Y yield was down by 7bps. Yields were generally higher through the month of March. Leading the way was the German 10Y yield which rose by 36bps on the back of the fiscal package announcement by the German government.

Rates had a volatile month in April. While the US 10Y yield was lower, it reached a low of 3.98% on April 4 and a high of 4.49% on April 11, registering a 50bps move within a week. Elsewhere, the German, UK, and Japanese 10Y yields were down by 29bps, 25bps, and 17bps respectively. At the short end, US 2Y yield was down 30bps as markets priced in more rate cuts. Yields were largely higher in May as the US 10Y yield was up by 24bps, closely followed by increases of 23bps in UK 10Y and 18bps in Japanese 10Y yields. German 10Y yields were up a modest 6bps. Positive risk sentiment coupled with elevated deficits in the US on the back of the new tax bill kept yields higher.

In June, both the US 2Y and the US 10Y yields declined by 19bps each, mainly driven by softer than expected core inflation and dovish commentary from a few FOMC members. Developed market bond yields drifted higher in July led by the US helped by better labor market data. US 10Y yield went up by 14bps, followed closely by Japanese 10Y yield, which was up 10bps. German and UK 10Y yields were up by 5bps and 7bps respectively.

In August, US 10Y and US 2Y yields declined by 13bps and 33bps respectively largely driven by weaker labor market data. In contrast, 10Y yields in Germany, the UK, and Japan saw increases of 3bps, 15bps, and 5bps, respectively. In September, the US 10Y Treasury yield declined by 8bps to 4.15%, influenced by weaker labor market data, softer inflation, and expectations of rate cuts by the FOMC. Conversely, the Japanese 10Y yield rose by 7bps. European yields remained range-bound, with the UK 10Y yield holding flat around 4.65% and the German 10Y yield increasing by 4bps.

Equities

Equity markets remained range-bound in October 2024 as strong macro and corporate fundamentals offset increased policy uncertainties. A significant equity market rally occurred in November as Donald Trump, and the Republican party registered a clean sweep in the US Presidential elections. December turned out to be a month of consolidation, mostly driven by hawkish comments from the December FOMC meeting.

Global equities got off to a strong start in 2025, largely led by strong performances of Euro area equities and US equities. Among US sectors, technology underperformed, largely driven by a sell-off on January 27 as DeepSeek, a Chinese artificial intelligence (AI) lab, claimed that its model was trained at a fraction of the cost of OpenAI. As a result, market participants questioned the growth estimates and profit margin of AI-related stocks. Softer US activity data and higher policy uncertainty in the US soured risk sentiment in February. However, in Europe, improving earnings dynamics coupled with manufacturing PMIs bouncing off the lows, and better economic surprises, drove equities higher. Weaker activity data in the US coupled with trade and fiscal policy uncertainty weighed on US equity markets in March.

Global equities were almost flat in April, with minimal dispersion across major markets. However, intra-month volatility was noteworthy. During the first week of April, global equities were sharply lower. Given that the US was engaging in a trade conflict with all major trading partners at the same time, the drag on US growth was expected to be larger, which made market participants question US growth exceptionalism. Amid the uncertainty, President Trump eventually announced a 90-day pause on the country-specific reciprocal tariffs, except China, on April 9 to allow for negotiations. Financial markets reacted strongly to this positive development and global equities rallied.

Global equities continued to rally in May, buoyed by the de-escalation of trade tensions. June proved to be robust for global equities, as the labor market data in the US, although softer, remained sufficiently healthy to alleviate recession concerns. July saw the Nasdaq post its 3rd consecutive monthly gain, and the index even registered a remarkable 14 all-time highs over the 22 trading days of the month, while the Magnificent 7 ended July at a new record high of its own. Utilities benefited from higher AI-related capex, which boosts demand for power.

In August, a combination of stronger-than-anticipated Q2 earnings and GDP growth in the US helped equity markets overcome concerns stemming from a weaker labor market. In September, equity markets demonstrated resilience, maintaining positive momentum despite negative seasonality and subdued US labor market data. Risk sentiment was bolstered by stronger-than-expected US activity data and the Fed's resumption of its easing cycle.

- Goldman Sachs Emerging Markets Enhanced Index Sustainable Equity
- Goldman Sachs Emerging Markets Equity Income
- Goldman Sachs Global Inflation Linked Bond
- Goldman Sachs Global Flexible Multi-Asset

The impact for the listed sub-funds is limited. The Board of Directors is continuously monitoring the developments and will always strive to act in the best interest of its funds' shareholders.

2 Significant Accounting Policies

2.1 Basis of Preparation of Financial Statements

The financial statements are prepared under a going concern basis of accounting and presented in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements except for Goldman Sachs US High Yield and Goldman Sachs Europe High Yield (Former NN) for which a non-going concern basis of accounting was adopted.

In accordance with the Prospectus, Total Net Assets as at 30 September 2025, used for the presentation of this Annual Report as of 30 September 2025, reflect all capital and securities transactions until 29 September 2025 for all sub-funds of the Fund.

By way of information, if the Fund had calculated the Total Net Assets exclusively for publication purposes, all the capital and securities transactions traded on 30 September 2025 would have been included in the Total Net Assets as at 30 September 2025.

2.2 Operating Expenses

Operating expenses (including custody expense, fund administration expense, management fees, fixed service fees, subscription tax and other expenses) are recognised on an accrual basis. Those expenses are reflected in the Statement of Operations.

2.3 Investment Transactions and Related Investment Income

Investment transactions are recorded on a trade date basis in accounting. Realised gains and losses are based on the average cost method.

Dividends are accounted for on the ex-date. Dividend income is recognised on a gross basis before withholding tax, if any.

Interest is accrued on a daily basis.

Interest income includes accretion of market discount, original issue discounts and amortisation of premiums and is recorded into income over the life of the underlying investment. In case amortisation of premium is greater than interest income, it is recorded net under "Interest on bonds and other debt instruments" on the Statement of Operations.

2.4 Transaction Costs

In case of cross investments in the shares/units of other UCITS and/or other UCIs that are managed directly or by delegation by the Management Company (the "GSAM funds"), no transaction costs are applicable.

Details of the sub-funds that incurred separately identifiable transaction costs can be found below. Transaction costs for fixed income investments, forward currency contracts and other derivative contracts are not separately identifiable. For these investments, transaction costs are included in the purchase and sales price and are part of the gross investment performance of each sub-fund.

For the year ended 30 September 2025, the amount of transaction costs incurred by each sub-fund is detailed in the following table:

2.5 Due to/from Brokers

These accounts represent the amount that the sub-fund owes to brokers ("Due to Brokers") or that brokers owe to sub-fund ("Due from Brokers"). The due to/from brokers relates to cash held at brokers and/or counterparties for derivative contracts.

2.6 Expenses Payable

This account represents the expenses that still have to be paid on the balance sheet date. These may include various costs that the Fund has to incur, such as, but not limited to, Fixed service fee payable or Subscription tax payable.

2.7 Financial Investment in Securities and Valuation

2.7.1 Recognition

The sub-funds recognise financial assets and financial liabilities on the date they become a party to the contractual provisions of the investment. Purchases and sales of financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised using trade date accounting. From trade date, any unrealised gains and losses arising from changes in value of the financial assets or financial liabilities are recorded in the Statement of Operations.

2.7.2 Value Measurement Principles

The value of all securities and derivatives is determined according to the following policies:

Exchange Listed Assets and Liabilities

The value of exchange traded financial investments, including transferable securities admitted to an official listing or to any other regulated market are valued at the last known prices. If these transferable securities are traded on several markets, the valuation is made on the basis of the last known price on the main market on which the transferable securities are listed.

Debt Securities

Debt securities, comprising bonds, are valued clean (excluding interest receivable). The last known price used for the bonds is the mid price.

Money Market Instruments and Fund Investments

The Fund's valuation methodology for money market investments meets the requirements of money market fund regulation (MMFR) that came into effect as of 21 January 2019. The valuation model determines that the MMF valuation shall be valued on a daily basis. The assets of the Fund shall be valued by using mark-to-market whenever possible and the asset of the Fund shall be valued at the more prudent side of bid and offer unless the asset can be closed out at mid-market. The Fund shall calculate a NAV per unit or share as the difference between the sum of all assets of the MMF and the sum of all liabilities of the MMF valued in accordance with mark-to-market or mark-to-model, or both, divided by the number of outstanding units or shares of the MMF. For the year ended 30 September 2025, no mark-to-model is used by the Fund.

Shares in Collective Investment Schemes

The value of investments in open-ended investment funds are valued based upon the official net asset values per share as at the last available date as supplied by the funds, in accordance with the valuation policy of the applicable fund as outlined in its prospectus.

Realised gains and losses on securities portfolio are calculated on the basis of the average cost of securities sold.

Derivatives

A derivative is an instrument whose fair value is derived from an underlying instrument, index reference rate or a combination of these factors. Derivative instruments may be privately negotiated contracts which are often referred to as over the counter ("OTC") derivatives or they may be listed and traded on an exchange. Derivative contracts may involve future commitments to purchase or sell financial instruments or commodities at specified terms on a specified date, or to exchange interest payment streams or currencies based on a notional or contractual amount.

Derivative contracts are stated at fair value and recognised as financial assets and financial liabilities on the Statements of Net Assets. Gains and losses resulting from the change in the fair value are reflected on the Statements of Operations as a component of change in unrealised gain/(loss). Realised gains or (losses) are recorded on termination or from periodic cash flow payments.

Forward Foreign Currency Contracts

The forward foreign exchange contracts represent obligations of purchase or the sale of foreign currency on the basis of future exchange rates determined at a fixed price at the time of conclusion of the contracts. The unexpired forward foreign exchange contracts are valued at the last "forward" rate available on the valuation dates or at the balance sheet date and unrealised appreciation or (depreciation) are recorded. Positive fair values of forward foreign exchange contracts are disclosed as assets and negative fair values as liabilities in the Statement of Net Assets. Realised gains or (losses) and changes in unrealised results are recorded in the Statement of Operations.

Futures Contracts

Futures contracts are valued based on the last available market price. Initial margin deposits are made upon entering into futures contracts. Variation margin payments are made or received, depending on the daily fluctuation in market value of the contract and are recorded by the sub-funds as unrealised appreciation and depreciation. Positive fair values of futures instruments are disclosed as assets and negative fair values as liabilities in the Statement of Net Assets. Realised gains or (losses) and changes in unrealised results are recorded in the Statement of Operations. For the calculation of net holdings by currency on financial instruments, the holdings are converted at the exchange rate prevailing at the year-end.

Swap Contracts

Swaps are, in general, contracts by which two parties commit themselves during a given period to exchange two flows, one in exchange of the other, determined on the basis of a nominal value. The flows may be linked to interest rate(s), exchange rate(s), share(s), index(es) or credit event(s). Swap contracts are valued using the difference between the values of forecasted flows the counterparty is to pay to the sub-fund and those owed by the sub-fund to its counterparties. Swaps are valued on the basis of their market value, which depends on several parameters (level of the index, market interest rate, remaining life of the swap).

Positive fair values of swap instruments are disclosed as assets and negative fair values as liabilities in the Statement of Net Assets. Realised gains or (losses) and changes in unrealised results are recorded in the Statement of Operations.

Swaps are valued clean (excluding interest receivable/payable). Interest to be received on swaps is included in the item "Accrued interest receivable". Interest to be paid on swaps is included in the item "Investment interest payable".

All Securities and Derivatives

If a quoted market price is not available from a third party pricing service or a dealer, or a quotation is believed to be materially inaccurate, the market value of the investment is determined by using valuation techniques. Valuation techniques include the use of recent market transactions, reference to the current market value of another investment that is substantially the same, discounted cash flow analyses or any other techniques that provides a reliable estimate of prices obtained in actual market transactions. Such securities and derivatives shall be valued at their fair value as determined by the Valuer. The Valuer also has direct responsibilities to the Board of Directors for certain valuation functions, which are ultimately reflected in the financial statements. The Valuer during the year ended 30 September 2025 was GSAM B.V. Product Controllers Division ("Controllers").

The investments have been valued in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that may require the use of certain estimates and assumptions to determine value. Although these estimates and assumptions are based on the best available information, actual results could be materially different from these estimates.

2.8 Cash

Cash is valued at cost, which approximates market value.

Cash in currencies other than the base currency of the sub-fund is converted into base currency at the foreign exchange rate prevailing on the date of valuation. Foreign currency exchange differences arising on translation are recognised in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets as realised gains or (losses) on currency.

2.9 Other Assets

This account mainly includes miscellaneous interest receivables.

2.10 Other Liabilities

This account mainly includes accrued tax payable, miscellaneous expense payable and Indian capital gains equivalent tax payable.

2.11 Other Income

This account mainly includes consent payment income, Central Securities Depositories Regulations (CSDR) cash penalties income, withholding tax reimbursement, cash collateral interest and call account interest.

2.12 Other Expenses

This account mainly includes Central Securities Depositories Regulations (CSDR) cash penalties expense, interest expense on cash collateral position, capital gain tax expense, dividend receipt fees expense and variable ADR GDR fees expense.

2.13 Foreign Currency Translation

The books and records of all sub-funds are maintained in their base currency. Transactions in foreign currencies are translated at the foreign currency exchange rate in effect at the date of the transaction. Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into base currency at the foreign currency closing exchange rate in effect at the year end date.

Foreign currency exchange differences arising on translation and realised gains and losses on disposals or settlements of assets and liabilities are recognised in the Statement of Operations. Foreign currency exchange gains or losses relating to investments, derivative financial investments, and all other foreign currency exchange gains or losses relating to monetary items, including cash and cash equivalents, are reflected in the net realised gain/(loss) or net change in unrealised gain/(loss) in the Statement of Operations.

2.14 Swinging Single Pricing

A sub-fund may suffer "dilution" of its net asset value per share because the price at which investors subscribe or redeem shares of the sub-fund, does not reflect the dealing and other costs that arise when trading is undertaken by the Investment Manager to accommodate the cash inflows or outflows related to these subscriptions or redemptions.

In order to counter this impact, a Swinging Single Pricing mechanism (SSP) may be applied to compensate expected transaction costs resulting from the difference between capital inflows and outflows. If on any valuation day, the aggregate net transactions in shares of a sub-fund exceed a pre-determined threshold, the net asset value per share may be adjusted upwards or downwards to compensate expected transaction costs related to these net capital inflows or outflows respectively by a pre-determined swing factor. The net inflows and net outflows will be determined by the Board of Directors based on the latest available information at the time of calculation of the net asset value per share.

Such predetermined threshold and swing factors are reviewed on a regular basis and may be adjusted. The maximum Swing Factor is 1.50% of the respective sub-fund's Net Asset Value except for sub-funds investing in fixed income instruments which may apply a maximum Swing Factor of 3.00%.

In exceptional market circumstances, in the case of large volumes of subscription, redemption or conversion requests that may have an adverse effect on the interests of Shareholders, the Board of Directors may, at its own discretion, authorize a temporary increase of a Swing Factor beyond the maximum Swing Factor. Exceptional market circumstances can be characterized among others as periods of increased market volatility, lack of liquidity, challenges in dealer intermediation, disorderly trading conditions, dislocated markets, disconnect between market pricing and valuations and could be the result of force majeure (acts of war, industrial action, civil unrest or cyber sabotage, among others).

For an individual sub-fund an applicable threshold could mean SSP is not or rarely applied. The current levels of thresholds and Swing Factors for each sub-fund are disclosed and updated on the website: <https://am.gs.com>.

The net assets value per share as disclosed in the statistical information is the published net asset value per share, whereas the total net assets disclosed in the Statement of Net Assets, Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets and summary of net assets is the total net asset value including any period end swing adjustments.

Refer to the Statement of Assets and Liabilities and the Statement of Changes in Net Assets for the sub-funds that applied swing pricing. As at 30 September 2025, a swing factor was applied only on Goldman Sachs Asia Equity Income and Goldman Sachs Corporate Green Bond sub-funds.

3 Taxation

The Company is liable in Luxembourg to a subscription tax ("Taxe d'abonnement") of 0.05% per annum of its net assets, such tax being payable quarterly and calculated on the net asset value at the end of the relevant calendar quarter. However, this tax is reduced to 0.01% per annum on the net assets of money market sub-funds and on the net assets of sub-funds and/or Share-Classes reserved for Institutional Investors as prescribed by Article 174 (II) of the Law of 2010.

No subscription tax is paid on the assets held by the Company in other UCIs already subject to that tax in Luxembourg.

The Company may be subject to withholding taxes at varying rates on dividends, interest and capital gains, in accordance with the tax laws applicable in the countries of origin of such income. The Company may in certain cases benefit from reduced tax rates under double tax treaties which Luxembourg has concluded with other countries. Withholding tax reimbursement is recorded under "Other income" in the Statement of Operations.

The tax reclaims are booked automatically as per tax applicable for the entity type and are booked as per occurrence of the dividend activity. Open tax reclaims on dividends are recorded under Dividend tax reclaim receivable in the Statement of Net Assets.

4 Distributions

The sub-funds intend that substantially all the allocable net investment income, if any, of each sub-fund will be declared as a dividend and paid at least annually to the shareholders of the distribution share classes of the sub-funds. Net capital and currency gains realised on each sub-fund's investments and/or capital attributable to certain share classes may also be distributed to shareholders of certain distribution share classes of the sub-funds.

Please refer to the Prospectus for further details about distribution policies.

5 Management Fees

In accordance with the terms and conditions of the "Collective Portfolio Management Agreement" between Goldman Sachs Asset Management B.V. and the SICAV, the sub-funds pay Goldman Sachs Asset Management B.V. an annual management fee calculated on the average net assets of each class of shares as described in the table below. This fee is payable monthly in arrears.

Unaudited Annual Report as of 30 September 2025
(Partial Report dedicated to the Swiss market)

As at 30 September 2025, the effective management fees rates are as follows:

8 Fixed Service Fees

A fixed service fee is charged at the level of the share classes of each sub-fund. The fixed service fee is paid to the Management Company and used by the latter to pay in the name of the Company the administration fees, the depositary fees, the transfer agent fees, the audit fees, the Belgian subscription tax and other ongoing operating and administrative expenses billed to the Company.

The fixed service fee is fixed in the sense that the Management Company will bear the excess of any expenses above the paid fixed service fee for each share class of each sub-fund.

Conversely, the Management Company will be entitled to retain any amount of service fee charged to the share class which exceeds the actual related expenses incurred by the respective share class.

This fee is calculated on the average net assets of each share class and is payable monthly in arrears.

As at 30 September 2025, the effective fixed service fees rates for the active share classes are as follows:

9 Overlay Fees

The Management Company may be entitled to receive a uniform Share-Class Overlay Fee of maximum 0.04% which is to be paid from the assets of the applicable Share-Class and based on actual costs. The Share-Class Overlay Fee is accrued at each calculation of the Net Asset Value and is set as a maximum in the sense that the Management Company may decide to lower the Overlay Fee charged to the respective Share-Class if economies of scale will allow.

The Overlay Fee will be applicable to all the Currency Hedged Share-Classes. In case of Z and Zz Share-Classes those fees may be specified in the Special Agreement or Fund Management Services Agreement which will be levied and collected by the Management Company directly from the Shareholder and not charged directly to the respective Share-Class.

As at 30 September 2025, the Overlay Fee is 0.021%.
