What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY           | PAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy and therefore its alignment with the Taxonomy was 0%.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy<sup>1</sup>?

☐ Yes

☐ In fossil gas

☐ In nuclear energy

☒ No

The two graphs below show in blue the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

* For the purpose of these graphs, ‘sovereign bonds’ consist of all sovereign exposures.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:
- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

<sup>1</sup>Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change (“climate change mitigation”) and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objectives - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund has promoted environmental and social characteristics but did not make any sustainable investments. As a consequence, the Sub-Fund did not invest in a minimum share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

This question is not applicable as the Sub-Fund did not make socially sustainable investments.

What investments were included under “other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under 'other' encompass cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives for efficient portfolio management/investment purposes, and issuers for which data was lacking, as well as investments in UCITS and UCIs. These were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but did not promote the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor did they qualify as sustainable investments. These investments were not subject to any minimum environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, the Investment Manager leveraged the Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Stewardship Team's engagement initiatives in respect of the Sub-Fund. The Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Stewardship Team focuses on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. Engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement efforts, the Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Stewardship Team establishes a stewardship framework, which reflects the Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Stewardship Team's thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement effort.

How did this financial product perform compared with the reference benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial products attains the environmental or social characteristics that they promote.

It promoted E/S characteristics, but did not make any sustainable investments

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

The Investment Manager has implemented an approach to Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) considerations into its fundamental investment process which consists of exclusionary screens as set forth below (the "ESG Criteria").

• As part of the ESG investment process, the Investment Manager has not invested in companies that are, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities, which over the reference period included but were not limited to:

- Adult Entertainment (10%)
  - Arctic Gas (1%)
  - Arctic Oil (1%)
  - Civilian Firearms (10%)
  - Controversial Weapons (Any)
  - Oil Sands (1%)
  - Nuclear Weapons (5%)
  - Palm Oil (10%)
  - Thermal Coal Mining (10%)
  - Tobacco (10%)

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

• The Sub-Fund has adhered to good governance, respecting human rights and labour rights, protecting the environment and prevention of bribery and corruption.
The Sub-Fund met this characteristic by assessing the extent to which the investee companies act in accordance with relevant legislation and internationally recognised standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Principles for Business and Human Rights and the UN Global Compact.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in material violators of internationally recognized standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights and UN Global Compact.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY           | PAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy and therefore its alignment with the Taxonomy was 0%.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy<sup>1</sup>?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ In fossil gas ☐ In nuclear energy
- ☒ No

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed

as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

The two graphs below show in blue the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any "sustainable investments" within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund has promoted environmental and social characteristics but did not make any sustainable investments. As a consequence, the Sub-Fund did not invest in a minimum share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

This question is not applicable as the Sub-Fund did not make socially sustainable investments.

What investments were included under "other", what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under 'other' encompass cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives for efficient portfolio management/investment purposes, and issuers for which data was lacking, as well as investments in UCITS and UCIs. These were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but did not promote the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor did they qualify as sustainable investments.

These investments were not subject to any minimum environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, the Investment Manager leveraged the Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Stewardship Team's engagement initiatives in respect of the Sub-Fund. The Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Stewardship Team focuses on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. Engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement efforts, the Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Stewardship Team establishes a stewardship framework, which reflects the Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Stewardship Team's thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement effort.

How did this financial product perform compared with the reference benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial products attains the environmental or social characteristics that they promote.

To what extent was the sustainable investment objective of this financial product met?

During the reference period, the Sub-Fund aimed to create positive social impact by investing in companies deemed sustainable by the Investment Manager. These companies provided solutions that promoted social sustainability, aligning with key themes to address social issues. The key themes (thematic alignment) are represented by companies that, in the Investment Manager's view, provide, invest in or help create products, services or technologies in areas including but not limited to:

- Thriving Communities – in areas such as affordable housing, digital inclusion, access to clean water and sanitation, access to clean energy.
- Economic Empowerment – in areas such as education for all, equal job opportunities, financial inclusion.
- Safe Society – in areas such as data privacy and security, human safety, climate change resilience, accountable and transparent institutions.
- Good Heath & Well-Being – in areas such as nutritious food, accessible and innovative healthcare, active lifestyle.

The performance of these characteristics are measured by the following performance indicators:

- Percentage of companies in the Sub-Fund demonstrating material alignment to one or more of the key themes according to the Investment Manager's assessment.
- Aggregate contribution of companies held in the Sub-Fund to social impact key performance indicators.
- Percentage of companies in the Sub-Fund determined to meet the Investment Manager's sustainable impact revenue threshold.

Additionally, the Sub-Fund has not invested in companies that are, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities, which over the reference period included but were not limited to:

- extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (including thermal coal, oil sands, arctic oil and gas);
- tobacco
- alcohol

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability indicators measure how the sustainable objectives of this financial product are attained.

- adult entertainment
- for-profit prisons
- civilian firearms
- gambling
- controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons).

The Sub-Fund additionally excluded from its investment universe companies the Investment Manager believes to be violating the United Nations Global Compact's ten principles (which are widely recognised corporate sustainability principles that meet fundamental responsibilities in the areas of human rights, labour, environment and anti-corruption).

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies violating the United Nations Global Compact's ten principles.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the sustainable investment objective of the Sub-Fund. The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the investment objective of the Sub-Fund.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Issuers that were classified as contributing to a sustainable investment were also required to meet the do no significant harm (DNSH) criteria of the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework. Any issuers that do not meet the DNSH test will not qualify as a sustainable investment. A proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory indicators relating to investee companies for adverse impacts on sustainability factors ("PAIs") set out in the regulatory technical standards supplementing SFDR.

Additionally, all issuers with a very severe controversy are considered to be causing significant harm and excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

This Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors across environmental and social pillars. The PAIs were taken into account through the application of the DNSH principle outlined above for the determination of sustainable investments as well as qualitatively through the Sub-Fund's investment approach.

In regard to the consideration of the PAIs as part of the DNSH assessment of an issuer, as noted above a proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory PAIs relating to investees, and is assessed using information from an external data provider. These thresholds for significant harm have been set on a relative or absolute basis against each PAI depending on the Management Company's assessment of the worst performing investments with respect to those PAIs. Where data is not available for a specific PAI a suitable proxy metric has been identified. If both PAI and proxy PAI data (where relevant) is not available and/or applicable to complete the DNSH assessment on an issuer, such issuer is generally excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

The Sub-Fund leveraged a proprietary approach to identifying and evaluating companies which, amongst other factors, are not considered to be aligned with global norms as further described below. Following this assessment, any companies which are considered to be in violation of these global norms (including the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights) were excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has made sustainable investments, it did not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy<sup>1</sup>?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ In fossil gas ☐ In nuclear energy
- ☒ No

<sup>1</sup>Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change ("climate change mitigation") and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objectives - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any "sustainable investments" within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

expenditure (OpEx)

operational activities of
investee companies.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has invested in sustainable investments, it did not specifically commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that are not aligned with the EU Taxonomy. Hence, the minimum commitment is 0%.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

The share of socially sustainable investments was 63.70%.

What investments were included under “not sustainable”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under 'not sustainable' encompass cash used for liquidity purposes, derivatives for hedging purposes, and UCIs and UCITs (such as ETFs) that make disclosures pursuant to article 8 or article 9 of SFDR for cash management purposes. These financial instruments were not subject to any minimum environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to attain the sustainable investment objective during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the sustainable investment objective of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, the Investment Manager leveraged the Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Stewardship Team's engagement initiatives in respect of the Sub-Fund. The Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Stewardship Team focuses on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. Engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement efforts, the Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Stewardship Team establishes a stewardship framework, which reflects the Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Stewardship Team's thematic priorities and guided voting and engagement efforts.

How did this financial product perform compared to the reference sustainable benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the sustainable investment objective.

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

The Investment Manager has implemented an approach to Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) considerations into its fundamental investment process which consists of exclusionary screens as set forth below (the "ESG Criteria").

• As part of the ESG investment process, the Investment Manager has not invested in companies that are, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities, which included but were not limited to:

- Controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons)
- Extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (including thermal coal, oil sands, Arctic oil and gas)
- Palm oil production & trading
- Tobacco
- Alcohol
- Adult entertainment
- Gambling
- For-profit prisons
- Civilian firearms

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

• The Sub-Fund took ESG factors of each issuer into account in the investment decision-making process.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Average weighted ESG Corporate Rating Score vs Benchmark.

• Adhered to good governance, respecting human rights and labour rights, protecting the environment and prevention of bribery and corruption.

The Sub-Fund met this characteristic by assessing the extent to which the investee companies act in accordance with relevant legislation and internationally recognised standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Principles for Business and Human Rights and the UN

Global Compact.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in material violators of internationally recognized standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights and UN Global Compact.

- Screening carbon footprint

The Sub-Fund applied screening regarding the carbon footprint of investee companies. In line with the ambition of the Sub-Fund the carbon footprint of the Sub-Fund was lower compared to the Benchmark.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Average weighted carbon footprint score (Tons CO<sub>2</sub> / €M EVIC) vs Benchmark.

- Sustainable Investment Framework (SI Framework)

The Sub-Fund promoted investments in companies or projects that contributed to an environmental or social objective based on the product contribution or operational contribution.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of sustainable investments.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

... and compared to previous periods ?

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

The consideration of investments made by the Sub-Fund as sustainable investments was determined by reference to the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework, which includes an assessment as to whether the investment contributes to an environmental and/or social objective. Under this framework, an investment is considered to be contributing to an environmental and/or social objective via either a product or operational contribution.

Product contribution considers either i) the proportion of an issuer's revenue dedicated to an environmentally and/or socially sustainable impact category, ii) the alignment of a product to an environmental and/or social Sustainable Development Goal (SDG), iii) best-in-class scoring of an issue(r) as against environmental and/or social opportunities themes defined by an external data provider, or iv) the percentage of taxonomy aligned revenue of the issuer. Due to availability of reliable data, the taxonomy aligned revenue route will only be used as data improves.

Operational contribution takes a thematic approach, looking at the promotion of climate transition (environmental) within the operational framework of the issuer, inclusive growth (social) within the operational framework of the issuer, operational alignment to an environmental or social SDG, or the application of a best-in-class proprietary environmental and social score.

This Sub-Fund did not target a specific category of sustainable investments but assessed all investments made pursuant to its overall investment strategy using the Sustainable Investment Framework. Hence, the sustainable investments made by this Sub-Fund may contribute to a variety of environmental and/or social objectives of the sustainable investments.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Issuers that were classified as contributing to a sustainable investment were also required to meet the do no significant harm (DNSH) criteria of the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework. Any issuers that do not meet the DNSH test will not qualify as a sustainable investment. A proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory indicators relating to investee companies for adverse impacts on sustainability factors ("PAIs") set out in the regulatory technical standards supplementing SFDR.

Additionally, all issuers with a very severe controversy are considered to be causing significant harm and excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

This Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors across environmental and social pillars. The PAIs were taken into account through the application of the DNSH principle outlined above for the determination of sustainable investments as well as qualitatively through the Sub-Fund's investment approach.

In regard to the consideration of the PAIs as part of the DNSH assessment of an issuer, as noted above a proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory PAIs relating to investees, and is assessed using information from an external data provider. These thresholds for significant harm have been set on a relative or absolute basis against each PAI depending on the Management Company's assessment of the worst performing investments with respect to those PAIs. Where data is not available for a specific PAI a suitable proxy metric has been identified. If both PAI and proxy PAI data (where relevant) is not available and/or applicable to complete the DNSH assessment on an issuer, such issuer is generally excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

The Sub-Fund leveraged a proprietary approach to identifying and evaluating companies which, amongst other factors, are not considered to be aligned with global norms as further described below. Following this assessment, any companies which are considered to be in violation of these global norms (including the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights) were excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY           | PAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has made sustainable investments, it did not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy<sup>1</sup>?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ In fossil gas ☐ In nuclear energy
- ☒ No

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any "sustainable investments" within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy was 39.83%.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

The share of socially sustainable investments was 20.11%.

What investments were included under “other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under 'other' encompass cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives for efficient portfolio management/investment purposes, and issuers for which data was lacking, as well as investments in UCITS and UCIs. These were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but did not promote the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor did they qualify as sustainable investments.

These investments were not subject to any minimum environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, the Investment Manager leveraged the Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Stewardship Team's engagement initiatives in respect of the Sub-Fund. The Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Stewardship Team focuses on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. Engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement efforts, the Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Stewardship Team establishes a stewardship framework, which reflects the Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Stewardship Team's thematic priorities and guided voting and engagement efforts.

How did this financial product perform compared with the reference benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial products attains the environmental or social characteristics that they promote.

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

The Investment Manager has implemented an approach to Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) considerations into its fundamental investment process which consists of exclusionary screens as set forth below (the "ESG Criteria").

• As part of the ESG investment process, the Investment Manager has not invested in companies that are, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities, which over the reference period included but were not limited to:

- the development, production, maintenance in controversial weapons (0%);
- the controversial supply of weapons (0%);
- the production of tobacco (50%);
- the extraction of oil sands (20%);
- the extraction of thermal coal (20%).

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

• The Sub-Fund has adhered to good governance, respecting human rights and labour rights, protecting the environment and prevention of bribery and corruption.

The Sub-Fund met this characteristic by assessing the extent to which the investee companies act in accordance with relevant legislation and internationally recognised standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Principles for Business and Human Rights and the UN Global Compact.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in material violators of internationally recognized standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights and UN Global Compact.

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability Indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.
The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY           | PAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy and therefore its alignment with the Taxonomy was 0%.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy<sup>1</sup>?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ In fossil gas
 ☐ In nuclear energy
- ☒ No

The two graphs below show in blue the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

* For the purpose of these graphs, ‘sovereign bonds’ consist of all sovereign exposures.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund has promoted environmental and social characteristics but did not make any sustainable investments. As a consequence, the Sub-Fund did not invest in a minimum share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

This question is not applicable as the Sub-Fund did not make socially sustainable investments.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

<sup>1</sup>Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change(“climate change mitigation”) and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objectives - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

What investments were included under “other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under 'other' encompass cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives for efficient portfolio management/investment purposes, and issuers for which data was lacking, as well as investments in UCITS and UCIs. These were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but did not promote the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor did they qualify as sustainable investments.

These investments were not subject to any minimum environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, the Investment Manager leveraged the Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Stewardship Team's engagement initiatives in respect of the Sub-Fund. The Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Stewardship Team focuses on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. Engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement efforts, the Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Stewardship Team establishes a stewardship framework, which reflects the Goldman Sachs Asset Management Global Stewardship Team's thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement effort.

How did this financial product perform compared with the reference benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial products attains the environmental or social characteristics that they promote.

☒ It promoted E/S characteristics, but did not make any sustainable investments

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

From 1 October 2024 - 20 May 2025, the Sub-Fund promoted environmental and social characteristics during the reporting period. More specifically:

1. Limited investments in companies involved in controversial activities.
- During the reporting period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in issuers that realised a certain percentage of their revenue from activities related to:
  - the development, production, maintenance or trade in controversial weapons (0%);
  - the controversial supply of weapons (0%);
  - the production of tobacco (≥50%);
  - the production of oil sands and controversial pipelines (>20%);
  - the extraction of thermal coal (>20%).

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Excluding investments in issuers involved in controversial activities'.

From 21 May 2025 the Investment Manager has implemented an approach to Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) considerations into its fundamental investment process as set forth below (the "ESG Criteria") over the reference period. This consisted of: (i) exclusionary screens; (ii) minimum inclusion criteria based on proprietary ESG ratings as set forth below.

As part of the ESG investment process, the Investment Manager has adhered to the ESG Criteria by avoiding investment in debt securities issued by corporate and sovereign issuers that are, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities:

- production of, and/or involvement in controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons);
- extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (thermal coal and oil sands);
- production of tobacco.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability Indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

Additionally, at least 2/3rds of the Sub-Fund's investments were in securities with a minimum ESG ABS scorecard rating equal to or greater than 50.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of investments in securities with a minimum ESG ABS scorecard rating equal to or greater than 50.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a “do not significant harm” principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The “do no significant harm” principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY   | PAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy and therefore its alignment with the Taxonomy was 0%.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy’?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ In fossil gas
 ☐ In nuclear energy
- ☒ No

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other

'Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change(“climate change mitigation”) and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objectives - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

- What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund has promoted environmental and social characteristics but did not make any sustainable investments. As a consequence, the Sub-Fund did not invest in a minimum share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy.
- What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

This question is not applicable as the Sub-Fund did not make socially sustainable investments.
- What investments were included under “other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under 'other' encompass securities such as UCITS, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives (other than single named credit default swaps but inclusive of credit default swaps indices) for investment purposes or efficient portfolio management, and issuers for which data was lacking or which fell into the lowest ESG category or otherwise become eligible for exclusion after purchase. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but did not promote the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor did they qualify as sustainable investments. These investments were not subject to any minimum environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, assessing and promoting effective stewardship among the companies and issuers represented in the Sub-Fund was a key part of the investment process.

The Investment Manager has engaged with corporate issuers in this Sub-Fund that the Investment Manager believed to have low ESG credentials or involvement in sustainability related controversies, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a corporate issuer prior to or without engaging with such corporate issuer. Where applicable, the Investment Manager has engaged with sovereign issuers in this Sub-Fund that have a low E-score with the objective to encourage sovereigns to improve their overall environmental performance and to encourage enhanced disclosures of climate related metrics. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a sovereign issuer, where applicable, prior to or without engaging with such sovereign issuer.

The Global Stewardship Team focus on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. The engagements conducted by the Global Stewardship Team were designed to complement the engagements conducted by our investment teams. The Fixed Income Team regularly engaged with companies including in one-on-one and investor group settings to corporate issuers that the Investment Manager believed to have had low ESG credentials, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. Engagement with management teams was an important component of the fixed income research process, which often informed investment selection. It gave a unique insight into management quality, business model, financial performance and strategy and future business prospects.

The engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement at the firmwide-level, the Global Stewardship Team leverages our stewardship framework, which reflects thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement efforts, and will include environmental, social and governance matters that are considered to be principal in terms of potential adverse impacts.

How did this financial product perform compared with the reference benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial products attains the environmental or social characteristics that they promote.

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

Sustainability Indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

From 1 October 2024 - 20 May 2025, the Sub-Fund promoted environmental and social characteristics during the reporting period. More specifically:

- Limited investments in companies involved in controversial activities. During the reporting period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in issuers that realised a certain percentage of their revenue from activities related to:
    - the development, production, maintenance or trade in controversial weapons (0%);
    - the controversial supply of weapons (0%);
    - the production of tobacco (≥50%);
    - the production of oil sands and controversial pipelines (>20%);
    - the extraction of thermal coal (>20%).

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Excluding investments in issuers involved in controversial activities'.

- Adhered to good governance, respecting human rights and labour rights, protecting the environment and prevention of bribery and corruption. The Sub-Fund met this characteristic by assessing the extent to which the investee companies act in accordance with relevant legislation and internationally recognised standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Principles for Business and Human Rights and the UN Global Compact.

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Limiting investments in material violators of internationally recognized standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights and UN Global Compact'.

From 21 May 2025, the Investment Manager has implemented an approach to Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) considerations into its fundamental investment process as set forth below (the "ESG Criteria") over the reference period. This consisted of: (i) exclusionary screens; (ii) minimum inclusion criteria based on proprietary ESG ratings as set forth below.

As part of the ESG investment process, the Investment Manager has adhered to the ESG Criteria by avoiding investment in debt securities issued by corporate and sovereign issuers that are, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities:

- production of, and/or involvement in controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons);
- extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (thermal coal and oil sands);
- production of tobacco.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

Additionally, the screening process for the Sub-Fund excluded government and corporate issuers that have the lowest category of ESG ratings according to the Investment Manager's proprietary internal scoring system, however, the Sub-Fund may have exposure of up to 10% in such corporate issuers.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of corporate and sovereign issuers with an ESG rating of less than or equal to 1, 10% allowance.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a “do not significant harm” principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The “do no significant harm” principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY   | PAI                                                                                                                                                            |

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy and therefore its alignment with the Taxonomy was 0%.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy?

<sup>1</sup>Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change (“climate change mitigation”) and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objectives - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

The two graphs below show in blue the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund has promoted environmental and social characteristics but did not make any sustainable investments. As a consequence, the Sub-Fund did not invest in a minimum share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

This question is not applicable as the Sub-Fund did not make socially sustainable investments.

What investments were included under “other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under 'other' encompass securities such as contingent capital securities, UCITS, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives (other than single named credit default swaps but inclusive of credit default swaps indices) for investment purposes or efficient portfolio management, and issuers for which data was lacking or which fell into the lowest ESG category or otherwise become eligible for exclusion after purchase. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but did not promote the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor did they qualify as sustainable investments. These investments were not subject to any minimum environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, assessing and promoting effective stewardship among the companies and issuers represented in the Sub-Fund was a key part of the investment process.

The Investment Manager has engaged with corporate issuers in this Sub-Fund that the Investment Manager believed to have low ESG credentials or involvement in sustainability related controversies, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a corporate issuer prior to or without engaging with such corporate issuer. Where applicable, the Investment Manager has engaged with sovereign issuers in this Sub-Fund that have a low E-score with the objective to encourage sovereigns to improve their overall environmental performance and to encourage enhanced disclosures of climate related metrics. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a sovereign issuer, where applicable, prior to or without engaging with such sovereign issuer.

The Global Stewardship Team focus on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. The engagements conducted by the Global Stewardship Team were designed to complement the engagements conducted by our investment teams. The Fixed Income Team regularly engaged with companies including in one-on-one and investor group settings to corporate issuers that the Investment Manager believed to have had low ESG credentials, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. Engagement with management teams was an important component of the fixed income research process, which often informed investment selection. It gave a unique insight into management quality, business model, financial performance and strategy and future business prospects.

The engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement at the firmwide-level, the Global Stewardship Team leverages our stewardship framework, which reflects thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement efforts, and will include environmental, social and governance matters that are considered to be principal in terms of potential adverse impacts.

How did this financial product perform compared with the reference benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial products attains the environmental or social characteristics that they promote.

To what extent was the sustainable investment objective of this financial product met?

As of 26 February 2025, the Sub-Fund aimed to contribute to creating a more sustainable future by investing in bonds that support biodiversity conservation and remediation, by investing either:

- a) in a combination of green, social and sustainability bonds where the use of proceeds is not based on the ICMA voluntary principles for self-labelled Green, Social and Sustainability bonds (“Unlabelled Bonds”) but which are issued by companies with revenues contributing positively to SDG 6 (Clean water and Sanitation), SDG 12 (Responsible consumption and Production), SDG 14 (Life below water) and/or SDG 15 (Life on Land); or
- b) in green, social and sustainability bonds where the proceeds are applied to projects or activities that promote green, social and sustainability purposes through their use of proceeds based on the International Capital Market Association’s (ICMA) voluntary principles for self-labelled Green, Social and Sustainability bonds (“Labelled Bonds”) with specific alignment to SDG 6, SDG 12, SDG 14 and/or SDG 15. The alignment with these SDG’s is based on the use-of-proceeds information received from the issuer.

The performance of these characteristics are measured by the following performance indicators: Percentage of investments in Unlabelled Bonds that aim to support biodiversity conservation and remediation.

The Sub-Fund has not invested in companies that are, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities, which over the reference period included but were not limited to:

- production of, and/or involvement in controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons),
- extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (including thermal coal, oil sands, shale oil and gas, arctic oil and gas),
- tobacco production,
- adult entertainment,
- fur and leather,
- firearms,
- gambling.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability indicators measure how the sustainable objectives of this financial product are attained.

that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the sustainable investment objective of the Sub-Fund. The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the investment objective of the Sub-Fund.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Issuers that were classified as contributing to a sustainable investment were also required to meet the do no significant harm (DNSH) criteria of the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework. Any issuers that do not meet the DNSH test will not qualify as a sustainable investment. A proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory indicators relating to investee companies for adverse impacts on sustainability factors ("PAIs") set out in the regulatory technical standards supplementing SFDR.

Additionally, all issuers with a very severe controversy are considered to be causing significant harm and excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

This Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors across environmental and social pillars. The PAIs were taken into account through the application of the DNSH principle outlined above for the determination of sustainable investments as well as qualitatively through the Sub-Fund's investment approach.

In regard to the consideration of the PAIs as part of the DNSH assessment of an issuer, as noted above a proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory PAIs relating to investees, and is assessed using information from an external data provider. These thresholds for significant harm have been set on a relative or absolute basis against each PAI depending on the Management Company's assessment of the worst performing investments with respect to those PAIs. Where data is not available for a specific PAI a suitable proxy metric has been identified. If both PAI and proxy PAI data (where relevant) is not available and/or applicable to complete the DNSH assessment on an issuer, such issuer is generally excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

The Sub-Fund leveraged a proprietary approach to identifying and evaluating companies which, amongst other factors, are not considered to be aligned with global norms as further described below. Following this assessment, any companies which are considered to be in violation of these global norms (including the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights) were excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY           | PAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:
- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has made sustainable investments, it did not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy<sup>1</sup>?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ In fossil gas ☐ In nuclear energy
- ☒ No

The two graphs below show in blue the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any "sustainable investments" within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has invested in sustainable investments, it did not specifically commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that are not aligned with the EU Taxonomy. Hence, the minimum commitment is 0%.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has made sustainable investments, it did not specifically commit to a minimum proportion of socially sustainable investments. Hence, the minimum commitment is 0%.

As noted above, whether investments made by this Sub-Fund were sustainable investments is determined by reference to the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework for assessing the contribution of investments to environmental and/or social objectives.

This product did not target one specific category of sustainable investments, but instead assesses all investments made pursuant to its overall investment strategy using the framework.

<sup>1</sup>Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change ("climate change mitigation") and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objectives - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

What investments were included under “not sustainable”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under “#2 Not sustainable” included securities such as contingent capital securities, UCITs, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives for efficient portfolio management and issuers for which data was lacking or which fell into the lowest ESG category or otherwise became eligible for exclusion after purchased. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but neither promoted the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor qualified as sustainable investments.

What actions have been taken to attain the sustainable investment objective during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, assessing and promoting effective stewardship among the companies and issuers represented in the Sub-Fund was a key part of the investment process.

The Investment Manager has engaged with corporate issuers in this Sub-Fund that the Investment Manager believed to have low ESG credentials or involvement in sustainability related controversies, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a corporate issuer prior to or without engaging with such corporate issuer. Where applicable, the Investment Manager has engaged with sovereign issuers in this Sub-Fund that have a low E-score with the objective to encourage sovereigns to improve their overall environmental performance and to encourage enhanced disclosures of climate related metrics. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a sovereign issuer, where applicable, prior to or without engaging with such sovereign issuer.

The Global Stewardship Team focus on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. The engagements conducted by the Global Stewardship Team were designed to complement the engagements conducted by our investment teams. The Fixed Income Team regularly engaged with companies including in one-on-one and investor group settings to corporate issuers that the Investment Manager believed to have had low ESG credentials, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. Engagement with management teams was an important component of the fixed income research process, which often informed investment selection. It gave a unique insight into management quality, business model, financial performance and strategy and future business prospects.

The engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement at the firmwide-level, the Global Stewardship Team leverages our stewardship framework, which reflects thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement efforts, and will include environmental, social and governance matters that are considered to be principal in terms of potential adverse impacts.

To what extent was the sustainable investment objective of this financial product met?

During the reference period, the Sub-Fund aimed to contribute to creating a more sustainable future by investing in bonds, the proceeds of which were used to finance climate and environmental projects that provided positive benefits to the environment. To achieve this, the Sub-Fund applied the Management Company’s proprietary Green, Social & Sustainability Bond Assessment Methodology and invested in both new and existing projects aligned with the International Capital Markets Association (ICMA) Green Bond Principles and the following categories:

- Renewable energy
- Energy efficiency
- Pollution prevention and control
- Environmentally sustainable management of living natural resources and land use
- Terrestrial and aquatic biodiversity
- Clean transportation
- Sustainable water and wastewater management
- Climate change adaptation
- Circular economy adapted products, production technologies and processes
- Consumption and Production
- Green buildings

The performance of these characteristics are measured by the following performance indicators: Percentage invested in green bonds.

The Sub-Fund also aimed to invest in issuers that engage in economic activities contributing to climate change mitigation objectives as set out in Article 10 of the Taxonomy Regulation, and in issuers that engage in economic activities contributing to other environmental objectives as set out in Article 9 of the Taxonomy Regulation, or in economic activities contributing to other environmental objectives not covered by the Taxonomy Regulation.

The performance of these characteristics are measured by the following performance indicators: Percentage of Taxonomy alignment.

The Sub-Fund additionally has not invested in companies that are, in the opinion of the Investment

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability indicators measure how the sustainable objectives of this financial product are attained.

Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities, which over the reference period included but were not limited to:

- production of, and/or involvement in controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons),
- extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (including thermal coal, oil sands, shale oil and gas, arctic oil and gas),
- tobacco production,
- adult entertainment,
- fur and leather,
- firearms,
- gambling.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the sustainable investment objective of the Sub-Fund. The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the investment objective of the Sub-Fund.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Issuers that were classified as contributing to a sustainable investment were also required to meet the do no significant harm (DNSH) criteria of the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework. Any issuers that do not meet the DNSH test will not qualify as a sustainable investment. A proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory indicators relating to investee companies for adverse impacts on sustainability factors ("PAIs") set out in the regulatory technical standards supplementing SFDR.

Additionally, all issuers with a very severe controversy are considered to be causing significant harm and excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

This Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors across environmental and social pillars. The PAIs were taken into account through the application of the DNSH principle outlined above for the determination of sustainable investments as well as qualitatively through the Sub-Fund's investment approach.

In regard to the consideration of the PAIs as part of the DNSH assessment of an issuer, as noted above a proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory PAIs relating to investees, and is assessed using information from an external data provider. These thresholds for significant harm have been set on a relative or absolute basis against each PAI depending on the Management Company's assessment of the worst performing investments with respect to those PAIs. Where data is not available for a specific PAI a suitable proxy metric has been identified. If both PAI and proxy PAI data (where relevant) is not available and/or applicable to complete the DNSH assessment on an issuer, such issuer is generally excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

The Sub-Fund leveraged a proprietary approach to identifying and evaluating companies which, amongst other factors, are not considered to be aligned with global norms as further described below. Following this assessment, any companies which are considered to be in violation of these global norms (including the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights) were excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY           | PAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The Management Company calculated the Taxonomy alignment percentage based on the data provided by the issuers of the bonds.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy'?

☐ Yes

☐ In fossil gas

☒ No

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

'Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change ("climate change mitigation") and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objectives - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

The EU Taxonomy alignment figures which have been included within this report have been calculated based on an assessment of the use of proceeds of the bonds in the portfolio in accordance with our proprietary Green, Social and Sustainability Bond Assessment Methodology rather than being based on the Turnover, CapEx or OpEx of the issuers of the bonds. Accordingly, a breakdown of Taxonomy alignment by Turnover, CapEx and OpEx is not applicable to the portfolio.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any "sustainable investments" within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

During the reporting period the Taxonomy aligned percentage was 48.89% compared to previous reporting period 40.33%.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy was 49.54%.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has made sustainable investments, it did not specifically commit to a minimum proportion of socially sustainable investments. Hence, the minimum commitment is 0%.

As noted above, whether investments made by this Sub-Fund were sustainable investments is determined by reference to the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework for assessing the contribution of investments to environmental and/or social objectives.

This product did not target one specific category of sustainable investments, but instead assesses all investments made pursuant to its overall investment strategy using the framework.

What investments were included under "not sustainable", what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under "#2 Not sustainable" included securities such as contingent capital securities, UCITs, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives for efficient portfolio management and issuers for which data was lacking or which fell into the lowest ESG category or otherwise became eligible for exclusion after purchased. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but neither promoted the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor qualified as sustainable investments.

What actions have been taken to attain the sustainable investment objective during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, assessing and promoting effective stewardship among the companies and issuers represented in the Sub-Fund was a key part of the investment process.

The Investment Manager has engaged with corporate issuers in this Sub-Fund that the Investment Manager believed to have low ESG credentials or involvement in sustainability related controversies, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a corporate issuer prior to or without engaging with such corporate issuer. Where applicable, the Investment Manager has engaged with sovereign issuers in this Sub-Fund that have a low E-score with the objective to encourage sovereigns to improve their overall environmental performance and to encourage enhanced disclosures of climate related metrics. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a sovereign issuer, where applicable, prior to or without engaging with such sovereign issuer.

The Global Stewardship Team focus on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. The engagements conducted by the Global Stewardship Team were designed to complement the engagements conducted by our investment teams. The Fixed Income Team regularly engaged with companies including in one-on-one and investor group settings to corporate issuers that the Investment Manager believed to have had low ESG credentials, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. Engagement with management teams was an important component of the fixed income research process, which often informed investment selection. It gave a unique insight into management quality, business model, financial performance and strategy and future business prospects.

The engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement at the firmwide-level, the Global Stewardship Team leverages our stewardship framework, which reflects thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement efforts, and will include environmental, social and governance matters that are considered to be principal in terms of potential adverse impacts.

How did this financial product perform compared to the reference sustainable benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the sustainable investment objective.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial product attains the sustainable objective.

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

From 1 October 2024 - 20 May 2025, the Sub-Fund promoted environmental and social characteristics during the reporting period. More specifically:

- Limited investments in companies involved in controversial activities. During the reporting period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in issuers that realised a certain percentage of their revenue from activities related to:
  - the development, production, maintenance or trade in controversial weapons (0%);
  - the controversial supply of weapons (0%);
  - the production of tobacco (≥50%);
  - the production of oil sands and controversial pipelines (>20%);
  - the extraction of thermal coal (>20%).

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Excluding investments in issuers involved in controversial activities'.

From 21 May 2025, the Investment Manager has implemented an approach to Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) considerations into its fundamental investment process as set forth below (the "ESG Criteria") over the reference period. This consisted of: (i) exclusionary screens; and (ii) Sub-Fund level environmental score (E-score) targets as set forth below.

As part of the ESG investment process, the Investment Manager has adhered to the ESG Criteria by avoiding investment in debt securities issued by corporate and sovereign issuers that are, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities:

- production of, and/or involvement in controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons);
- extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (thermal coal and oil sands);
- production of tobacco.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability Indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

The Sub-Fund has also excluded investments in countries that were subject to country-wide arms embargo sanctions imposed by the United Nations Security Council, and countries on the global money laundering and terrorist financing watchdog, Financial Action Task Force list, that were subject to a "Call for Action".

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of excluding investments in countries subject to country-wide arms embargo sanctions imposed by the United Nations Security Council, and countries on the Financial Action Task Force list, that are subject to a 'Call for Action'.

Additionally, the Sub-Fund has achieved a higher environmental score (E-score) relative to the Reference Portfolio/Benchmark.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Environmental score (E-score) vs Benchmark.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a “do not significant harm” principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The “do no significant harm” principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY   | PAI                                                                                                                                                            |

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy and therefore its alignment with the Taxonomy was 0%.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy?

- ☐ Yes
 ☐ In fossil gas
 ☒ No

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.

- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.

- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

The two graphs below show in blue the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any "sustainable investments" within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund has promoted environmental and social characteristics but did not make any sustainable investments. As a consequence, the Sub-Fund did not invest in a minimum share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

This question is not applicable as the Sub-Fund did not make socially sustainable investments.

What investments were included under "other", what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under 'other' encompass securities such as contingent capital securities, UCITS, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives (other than single named credit default swaps but inclusive of credit default swaps indices) for investment purposes or efficient portfolio management, and issuers for which data was lacking or which fell into the lowest ESG category or otherwise become eligible for exclusion after purchase. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but did not promote the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor did they qualify as sustainable investments. These investments were not subject to any minimum environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, assessing and promoting effective stewardship among the companies and issuers represented in the Sub-Fund was a key part of the investment process.

The Investment Manager has engaged with corporate issuers in this Sub-Fund that the Investment Manager believed to have low ESG credentials or involvement in sustainability related controversies, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a corporate issuer prior to or without engaging with such corporate issuer. Where applicable, the Investment Manager has engaged with sovereign issuers in this Sub-Fund that have a low E-score with the objective to encourage sovereigns to improve their overall environmental performance and to encourage enhanced disclosures of climate related metrics. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a sovereign issuer, where applicable, prior to or without engaging with such sovereign issuer.

The Global Stewardship Team focus on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. The engagements conducted by the Global Stewardship Team were designed to complement the engagements conducted by our investment teams. The Fixed Income Team regularly engaged with companies including in one-on-one and investor group settings to corporate issuers that the Investment Manager believed to have had low ESG credentials, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. Engagement with management teams was an important component of the fixed income research process, which often informed investment selection. It gave a unique insight into management quality, business model, financial performance and strategy and future business prospects.

The engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement at the firmwide-level, the Global Stewardship Team leverages our stewardship framework, which reflects thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement efforts, and will include environmental, social and governance matters that are considered to be principal in terms of potential adverse impacts.

How did this financial product perform compared with the reference benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial products attains the environmental or social characteristics that they promote.

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

From 1 October 2024 - 20 May 2025, the Sub-Fund promoted environmental and social characteristics during the reporting period. More specifically:

- Limited investments in companies involved in controversial activities.
During the reporting period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in issuers that realised a certain percentage of their revenue from activities related to:
  - the development, production, maintenance or trade in controversial weapons (0%);
  - the controversial supply of weapons (0%);
  - the production of tobacco (≥50%);
  - the production of oil sands and controversial pipelines (>20%);
  - the extraction of thermal coal (>20%).

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Excluding investments in issuers involved in controversial activities'.

- Excluding countries.
During the reporting period, no investments have been made in countries against which arms embargoes have been imposed by the United Nations Security Council. Similarly, investments are not made in countries included in the Financial Action Task Force list, which are subject to a "Call for Action".

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Excluding investments in countries subject to country-wide arms embargo sanctions imposed by the United Nations Security Council, and countries on the Financial Action Task Force list, that are subject to a "Call for Action".

- Adhered to good governance, respecting human rights and labour rights, protecting the environment and prevention of bribery and corruption.
The Sub-Fund met this characteristic by assessing the extent to which the investee companies act in accordance with relevant legislation and internationally recognised standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Principles for Business and Human Rights and the UN Global Compact.

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Limiting investments in material

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability Indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

violators of internationally recognized standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights and UN Global Compact’.

From 21 May 2025, the Investment Manager has implemented an approach to Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) considerations into its fundamental investment process as set forth below (the "ESG Criteria") over the reference period. This consisted of: (i) exclusionary screens; (ii) minimum inclusion criteria based on proprietary ESG ratings as set forth below.

As part of the ESG investment process, the Investment Manager has adhered to the ESG Criteria by avoiding investment in debt securities issued by corporate and sovereign issuers that are, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities:

- production of, and/or involvement in controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons);
- extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (thermal coal and oil sands);
- production of tobacco.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

The Sub-Fund has also excluded from its investment universe companies the Investment Manager believed to be violating the United Nations Global Compact's ten principles (which are widely recognised corporate sustainability principles that meet fundamental responsibilities in the areas of human rights, labour, environment and anti-corruption).

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies violating the United Nations Global Compact's ten principles.

Additionally, the screening process for the Sub-Fund excluded government and corporate issuers that have the lowest category of ESG ratings according to the Investment Manager's proprietary internal scoring system.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of corporate and sovereign issuers with an ESG rating of less than or equal to 1.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

... and compared to previous periods ?

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY           | PAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy and therefore its alignment with the Taxonomy was 0%.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy<sup>1</sup>?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ In fossil gas ☐ In nuclear energy
- ☒ No

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

<sup>1</sup>Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change (“climate change mitigation”) and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objectives - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:
- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any "sustainable investments" within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund has promoted environmental and social characteristics but did not make any sustainable investments. As a consequence, the Sub-Fund did not invest in a minimum share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

This question is not applicable as the Sub-Fund did not make socially sustainable investments.

What investments were included under "other", what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under 'other' encompass securities such as UCITS, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives (other than single named credit default swaps but inclusive of credit default swaps indices) for investment purposes or efficient portfolio management, and issuers for which data was lacking or which fell into the lowest ESG category or otherwise become eligible for exclusion after purchase. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but did not promote the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor did they qualify as sustainable investments.

These investments were not subject to any minimum environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, assessing and promoting effective stewardship among the companies and issuers represented in the Sub-Fund was a key part of the investment process.

The Investment Manager has engaged with corporate issuers in this Sub-Fund that the Investment Manager believed to have low ESG credentials or involvement in sustainability related controversies, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a corporate issuer prior to or without engaging with such corporate issuer. Where applicable, the Investment Manager has engaged with sovereign issuers in this Sub-Fund that have a low E-score with the objective to encourage sovereigns to improve their overall environmental performance and to encourage enhanced disclosures of climate related metrics. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a sovereign issuer, where applicable, prior to or without engaging with such sovereign issuer.

The Global Stewardship Team focus on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. The engagements conducted by the Global Stewardship Team were designed to complement the engagements conducted by our investment teams. The Fixed Income Team regularly engaged with companies including in one-on-one and investor group settings to corporate issuers that the Investment Manager believed to have had low ESG credentials, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. Engagement with management teams was an important component of the fixed income research process, which often informed investment selection. It gave a unique insight into management quality, business model, financial performance and strategy and future business prospects.

The engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement at the firmwide-level, the Global Stewardship Team leverages our stewardship framework, which reflects thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement efforts, and will include environmental, social and governance matters that are considered to be principal in terms of potential adverse impacts.

How did this financial product perform compared with the reference benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial products attains the environmental or social characteristics that they promote.

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

From 1 October 2024 - 20 May 2025, the Sub-Fund promoted environmental and social characteristics during the reporting period. More specifically:

- Limited investments in companies involved in controversial activities. During the reporting period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in issuers that realised a certain percentage of their revenue from activities related to:
  - the development, production, maintenance or trade in controversial weapons (0%);
  - the controversial supply of weapons (0%);
  - the production of tobacco (≥50%);
  - the production of oil sands and controversial pipelines (>20%);
  - the extraction of thermal coal (>20%).

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Excluding investments in issuers involved in controversial activities'.

- Excluding countries. During the reporting period, no investments have been made in countries against which arms embargoes have been imposed by the United Nations Security Council. Similarly, investments are not made in countries included in the Financial Action Task Force list, which are subject to a "Call for Action".

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Excluding investments in countries subject to country-wide arms embargo sanctions imposed by the United Nations Security Council, and countries on the Financial Action Task Force list, that are subject to a "Call for Action"'.

- Adhered to good governance, respecting human rights and labour rights, protecting the environment and prevention of bribery and corruption. The Sub-Fund met this characteristic by assessing the extent to which the investee companies act in accordance with relevant legislation and internationally recognised standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Principles for Business and Human Rights and the UN Global Compact.

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Limiting investments in material

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability Indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

violators of internationally recognized standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights and UN Global Compact’.

As part of ongoing efforts to optimize businesses and operations of Goldman Sachs Asset Management B.V. and The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc., Goldman Sachs Asset Management International has been appointed to provide portfolio management services to the Sub-Fund.

From 21 May 2025, the Sub-Fund has committed to a minimum of 10% sustainable investments. The Investment Manager has implemented an approach to Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) considerations into its fundamental investment process as set forth below (the "ESG Criteria") over the reference period. This consisted of: (i) exclusionary screens; (ii) minimum inclusion criteria based on proprietary ESG ratings as set forth below.

As part of the ESG investment process, the Investment Manager has adhered to the ESG Criteria by avoiding investment in debt securities issued by corporate and sovereign issuers that are, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities:

- production of, and/or involvement in controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons);
- extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (thermal coal and oil sands);
- production of tobacco.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

The Sub-Fund has also excluded from its investment universe companies the Investment Manager believed to be violating the United Nations Global Compact's ten principles (which are widely recognised corporate sustainability principles that meet fundamental responsibilities in the areas of human rights, labour, environment and anti-corruption).

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies violating the United Nations Global Compact's ten principles.

Additionally, the screening process for the Sub-Fund excluded government and corporate issuers that have the lowest category of ESG ratings according to the Investment Manager’s proprietary internal scoring system.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of corporate and sovereign issuers with an ESG rating of less than or equal to 1.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

The consideration of investments made by the Sub-Fund as sustainable investments was determined by reference to the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework, which includes an assessment as to whether the investment contributes to an environmental and/or social objective. Under this framework, an investment is considered to be contributing to an environmental and/or social objective via either a product or operational contribution.

Product contribution considers either i) the proportion of an issuer's revenue dedicated to an environmentally and/or socially sustainable impact category, ii) the alignment of a product to an environmental and/or social Sustainable Development Goal (SDG), iii) best-in-class scoring of an issue(r) as against environmental and/or social opportunities themes defined by an external data provider, or iv) the percentage of taxonomy aligned revenue of the issuer. Due to availability of reliable data, the taxonomy aligned revenue route will only be used as data improves.

Operational contribution takes a thematic approach, looking at the promotion of climate transition (environmental) within the operational framework of the issuer, inclusive growth (social) within the operational framework of the issuer, operational alignment to an environmental or social SDG, or the application of a best-in-class proprietary environmental and social score.

This Sub-Fund did not target a specific category of sustainable investments but assessed all investments made pursuant to its overall investment strategy using the Sustainable Investment Framework. Hence, the sustainable investments made by this Sub-Fund may contribute to a variety of environmental and/or social objectives of the sustainable investments.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Issuers that were classified as contributing to a sustainable investment were also required to meet the do no significant harm (DNSH) criteria of the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework. Any issuers that do not meet the DNSH test will not qualify as a sustainable investment. A proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory indicators relating to investee companies for adverse impacts on sustainability factors ("PAIs") set out in the regulatory technical standards supplementing SFDR.

Additionally, all issuers with a very severe controversy are considered to be causing significant harm and excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

This Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors across environmental and social pillars. The PAIs were taken into account through the application of the DNSH principle outlined above for the determination of sustainable investments as well as qualitatively through the Sub-Fund's investment approach.

In regard to the consideration of the PAIs as part of the DNSH assessment of an issuer, as noted above a proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory PAIs relating to investees, and is assessed using information from an external data provider. These thresholds for significant harm have been set on a relative or absolute basis against each PAI depending on the Management Company's assessment of the worst performing investments with respect to those PAIs. Where data is not available for a specific PAI a suitable proxy metric has been identified. If both PAI and proxy PAI data (where relevant) is not available and/or applicable to complete the DNSH assessment on an issuer, such issuer is generally excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

The Sub-Fund leveraged a proprietary approach to identifying and evaluating companies which, amongst other factors, are not considered to be aligned with global norms as further described below. Following this assessment, any companies which are considered to be in violation of these global norms (including the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights) were excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has made sustainable investments, it did not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy<sup>1</sup>?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ In fossil gas ☐ In nuclear energy
- ☒ No

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

The two graphs below show in blue the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any "sustainable investments" within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has invested in sustainable investments, it did not specifically commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that are not aligned with the EU Taxonomy. Hence, the minimum commitment is 0%.

<sup>1</sup>Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change("climate change mitigation") and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objectives - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has made sustainable investments, it did not specifically commit to a minimum proportion of socially sustainable investments. Hence, the minimum commitment is 0%.

As noted above, whether investments made by this Sub-Fund were sustainable investments is determined by reference to the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework for assessing the contribution of investments to environmental and/or social objectives.

This product did not target one specific category of sustainable investments, but instead assesses all investments made pursuant to its overall investment strategy using the framework.

What investments were included under "other", what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under "other" included securities such as contingent capital securities, UCITs, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives for efficient portfolio management and issuers for which data was lacking or which fell into the lowest ESG category or otherwise became eligible for exclusion after purchased. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but neither promoted the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor qualified as sustainable investments.

These financial instruments were not subject to any minimum environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, assessing and promoting effective stewardship among the companies and issuers represented in the Sub-Fund was a key part of the investment process.

The Investment Manager has engaged with corporate issuers in this Sub-Fund that the Investment Manager believed to have low ESG credentials or involvement in sustainability related controversies, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a corporate issuer prior to or without engaging with such corporate issuer. Where applicable, the Investment Manager has engaged with sovereign issuers in this Sub-Fund that have a low E-score with the objective to encourage sovereigns to improve their overall environmental performance and to encourage enhanced disclosures of climate related metrics. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a sovereign issuer, where applicable, prior to or without engaging with such sovereign issuer.

The Global Stewardship Team focus on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. The engagements conducted by the Global Stewardship Team were designed to complement the engagements conducted by our investment teams. The Fixed Income Team regularly engaged with companies including in one-on-one and investor group settings to corporate issuers that the Investment Manager believed to have had low ESG credentials, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. Engagement with management teams was an important component of the fixed income research process, which often informed investment selection. It gave a unique insight into management quality, business model, financial performance and strategy and future business prospects.

The engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement at the firmwide-level, the Global Stewardship Team leverages our stewardship framework, which reflects thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement efforts, and will include environmental, social and governance matters that are considered to be principal in terms of potential adverse impacts.

How did this financial product perform compared with the reference benchmark?

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

From 1 October 2024 - 20 May 2025, the Sub-Fund promoted environmental and social characteristics during the reporting period. More specifically:

- Limited investments in companies involved in controversial activities.
During the reporting period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in issuers that realised a certain percentage of their revenue from activities related to:
  - the development, production, maintenance or trade in controversial weapons (0%);
  - the controversial supply of weapons (0%);
  - the production of tobacco (≥50%);
  - the production of oil sands and controversial pipelines (>20%);
  - the extraction of thermal coal (>20%).

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Excluding investments in issuers involved in controversial activities'.

- Excluding countries.
During the reporting period, no investments have been made in countries against which arms embargoes have been imposed by the United Nations Security Council. Similarly, investments are not made in countries included in the Financial Action Task Force list, which are subject to a "Call for Action".

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Excluding investments in countries subject to country-wide arms embargo sanctions imposed by the United Nations Security Council, and countries on the Financial Action Task Force list, that are subject to a "Call for Action".

- Adhered to good governance, respecting human rights and labour rights, protecting the environment and prevention of bribery and corruption.
The Sub-Fund met this characteristic by assessing the extent to which the investee companies act in accordance with relevant legislation and internationally recognised standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Principles for Business and Human Rights and the UN Global Compact.

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Limiting investments in material

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability Indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

violators of internationally recognized standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights and UN Global Compact'.

• Screening carbon footprint

The Sub-Fund applied screening regarding the carbon footprint of investee companies. In line with the ambition of the Sub-Fund the carbon footprint of the Sub-Fund was better than the carbon footprint of the Benchmark.

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Average weighted carbon footprint score - MSCI Scope 1 + 2 + 3', sourced by MSCI.

As part of ongoing efforts to optimize businesses and operations of Goldman Sachs Asset Management B.V. and The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc., Goldman Sachs Asset Management International has been appointed to provide portfolio management services to the Sub-Fund.

From 21 May 2025, the Investment Manager has implemented an approach to Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) considerations into its fundamental investment process as set forth below (the "ESG Criteria") over the reference period. This consisted of: (i) exclusionary screens; (ii) minimum inclusion criteria based on proprietary ESG ratings as set forth below.

As part of the ESG investment process, the Investment Manager has adhered to the ESG Criteria by avoiding investment in debt securities issued by corporate and sovereign issuers that are, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities:

- production of, and/or involvement in controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons);
- extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (thermal coal, oil sands, shale oil and gas, arctic oil and gas);
- production of tobacco;
- gambling;
- adult entertainment;
- fur & speciality leather; and
- firearms.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

The Sub-Fund has also excluded from its investment universe companies the Investment Manager believed to be violating the United Nations Global Compact's ten principles (which are widely recognised corporate sustainability principles that meet fundamental responsibilities in the areas of human rights, labour, environment and anti-corruption).

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies violating the United Nations Global Compact's ten principles.

Additionally, the screening process for the Sub-Fund excluded government and corporate issuers that have the lowest category of ESG ratings according to the Investment Manager's proprietary internal scoring system.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of corporate and sovereign issuers with an ESG rating of less than or equal to 1.

The Sub-Fund also applied screening regarding the carbon footprint score of the investee companies. In line with the ambition of the Sub-Fund the carbon footprint score of the Sub-Fund was lower than the Index/Benchmark.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Average weighted carbon footprint score against the Index/Benchmark - Scope 1 + 2.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

... and compared to previous periods ?

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

The consideration of investments made by the Sub-Fund as sustainable investments was determined by reference to the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework, which includes an assessment as to whether the investment contributes to an environmental and/or social objective. Under this framework, an investment is considered to be contributing to an environmental and/or social objective via either a product or operational contribution.

Product contribution considers either i) the proportion of an issuer's revenue dedicated to an environmentally and/or socially sustainable impact category, ii) the alignment of a product to an environmental and/or social Sustainable Development Goal (SDG), iii) best-in-class scoring of an issue(r) as against environmental and/or social opportunities themes defined by an external data provider, or iv) the percentage of taxonomy aligned revenue of the issuer. Due to availability of reliable data, the taxonomy aligned revenue route will only be used as data improves.

Operational contribution takes a thematic approach, looking at the promotion of climate transition (environmental) within the operational framework of the issuer, inclusive growth (social) within the operational framework of the issuer, operational alignment to an environmental or social SDG, or the application of a best-in-class proprietary environmental and social score.

This Sub-Fund did not target a specific category of sustainable investments but assessed all investments made pursuant to its overall investment strategy using the Sustainable Investment Framework. Hence, the sustainable investments made by this Sub-Fund may contribute to a variety of environmental and/or social objectives of the sustainable investments.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Issuers that were classified as contributing to a sustainable investment were also required to meet the do no significant harm (DNSH) criteria of the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework. Any issuers that do not meet the DNSH test will not qualify as a sustainable investment. A proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory indicators relating to investee companies for adverse impacts on sustainability factors ("PAIs") set out in the regulatory technical standards supplementing SFDR.

Additionally, all issuers with a very severe controversy are considered to be causing significant harm and excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

This Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors across environmental and social pillars. The PAIs were taken into account through the application of the DNSH principle outlined above for the determination of sustainable investments as well as qualitatively through the Sub-Fund's investment approach.

In regard to the consideration of the PAIs as part of the DNSH assessment of an issuer, as noted above a proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory PAIs relating to investees, and is assessed using information from an external data provider. These thresholds for significant harm have been set on a relative or absolute basis against each PAI depending on the Management Company's assessment of the worst performing investments with respect to those PAIs. Where data is not available for a specific PAI a suitable proxy metric has been identified. If both PAI and proxy PAI data (where relevant) is not available and/or applicable to complete the DNSH assessment on an issuer, such issuer is generally excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

The Sub-Fund leveraged a proprietary approach to identifying and evaluating companies which, amongst other factors, are not considered to be aligned with global norms as further described below. Following this assessment, any companies which are considered to be in violation of these global norms (including the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights) were excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY           | PAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has made sustainable investments, it did not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ In fossil gas ☐ In nuclear energy
- ☒ No

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

*Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change("climate change mitigation") and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objectives - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

The two graphs below show in blue the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any "sustainable investments" within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy was 37.07%.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

The share of socially sustainable investments was 21.46%.

What investments were included under "other", what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under "other" included securities such as contingent capital securities, UCITs, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives for efficient portfolio management and issuers for which data was lacking or which fell into the lowest ESG category or otherwise became eligible for exclusion after purchased. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but neither promoted the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor qualified as sustainable investments.

These financial instruments were not subject to any minimum environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, assessing and promoting effective stewardship among the companies and issuers represented in the Sub-Fund was a key part of the investment process.

The Investment Manager has engaged with corporate issuers in this Sub-Fund that the Investment Manager believed to have low ESG credentials or involvement in sustainability related controversies, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a corporate issuer prior to or without engaging with such corporate issuer. Where applicable, the Investment Manager has engaged with sovereign issuers in this Sub-Fund that have a low E-score with the objective to encourage sovereigns to improve their overall environmental performance and to encourage enhanced disclosures of climate related metrics. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a sovereign issuer, where applicable, prior to or without engaging with such sovereign issuer.

The Global Stewardship Team focus on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. The engagements conducted by the Global Stewardship Team were designed to complement the engagements conducted by our investment teams. The Fixed Income Team regularly engaged with companies including in one-on-one and investor group settings to corporate issuers that the Investment Manager believed to have had low ESG credentials, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. Engagement with management teams was an important component of the fixed income research process, which often informed investment selection. It gave a unique insight into management quality, business model, financial performance and strategy and future business prospects.

The engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement at the firmwide-level, the Global Stewardship Team leverages our stewardship framework, which reflects thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement efforts, and will include environmental, social and governance matters that are considered to be principal in terms of potential adverse impacts.

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

From 1 October 2024 - 20 May 2025, the Sub-Fund promoted environmental and social characteristics during the reporting period. More specifically:

- Limited investments in companies involved in controversial activities. During the reporting period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in issuers that realised a certain percentage of their revenue from activities related to:
  - the development, production, maintenance or trade in controversial weapons (0%);
  - the controversial supply of weapons (0%);
  - the production of tobacco (≥50%);
  - the production of oil sands and controversial pipelines (>20%);
  - the extraction of thermal coal (>20%).

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Excluding investments in issuers involved in controversial activities'.

- Excluding countries. During the reporting period, no investments have been made in countries against which arms embargoes have been imposed by the United Nations Security Council. Similarly, investments are not made in countries included in the Financial Action Task Force list, which are subject to a "Call for Action".

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Excluding investments in countries subject to country-wide arms embargo sanctions imposed by the United Nations Security Council, and countries on the Financial Action Task Force list, that are subject to a "Call for Action".

- Adhered to good governance, respecting human rights and labour rights, protecting the environment and prevention of bribery and corruption. The Sub-Fund met this characteristic by assessing the extent to which the investee companies act in accordance with relevant legislation and internationally recognised standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Principles for Business and Human Rights and the UN Global Compact. The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Limiting investments in material violators of internationally recognized standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability Indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

Enterprises, the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights and UN Global Compact'.

• Screening carbon footprint

The Sub-Fund applied screening regarding the carbon footprint of investee companies. In line with the ambition of the Sub-Fund the carbon footprint of the Sub-Fund was better than the carbon footprint of the Benchmark.

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Average weighted carbon footprint score - MSCI Scope 1 + 2 + 3', sourced by MSCI.

As part of ongoing efforts to optimize businesses and operations of Goldman Sachs Asset Management B.V. and The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc., Goldman Sachs Asset Management International has been appointed to provide portfolio management services to the Sub-Fund.

From 21 May 2025, the Investment Manager has implemented an approach to Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) considerations into its fundamental investment process as set forth below (the "ESG Criteria") over the reference period. This consisted of: (i) exclusionary screens; (ii) minimum inclusion criteria based on proprietary ESG ratings as set forth below.

As part of the ESG investment process, the Investment Manager has adhered to the ESG Criteria by avoiding investment in debt securities issued by corporate and sovereign issuers that are, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities:

- production of, and/or involvement in controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons);
- extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (thermal coal, oil sands, shale oil and gas, arctic oil and gas);
- production of tobacco;
- gambling;
- adult entertainment;
- fur & speciality leather; and
- firearms.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

The Sub-Fund has also excluded from its investment universe companies the Investment Manager believed to be violating the United Nations Global Compact's ten principles (which are widely recognised corporate sustainability principles that meet fundamental responsibilities in the areas of human rights, labour, environment and anti-corruption).

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies violating the United Nations Global Compact's ten principles.

Additionally, the screening process for the Sub-Fund excluded government and corporate issuers that have the lowest category of ESG ratings according to the Investment Manager's proprietary internal scoring system.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of corporate and sovereign issuers with an ESG rating of less than or equal to 1.

The Sub-Fund also applied screening regarding the carbon footprint score of the investee companies. In line with the ambition of the Sub-Fund the carbon footprint score of the Sub-Fund was lower than the Index/Benchmark.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Average weighted carbon footprint score against the Index/Benchmark - Scope 1 + 2.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

... and compared to previous periods ?

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

The consideration of investments made by the Sub-Fund as sustainable investments was determined by reference to the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework, which includes an assessment as to whether the investment contributes to an environmental and/or social objective. Under this framework, an investment is considered to be contributing to an environmental and/or social objective via either a product or operational contribution.

Product contribution considers either i) the proportion of an issuer's revenue dedicated to an environmentally and/or socially sustainable impact category, ii) the alignment of a product to an environmental and/or social Sustainable Development Goal (SDG), iii) best-in-class scoring of an issue(r) as against environmental and/or social opportunities themes defined by an external data provider, or iv) the percentage of taxonomy aligned revenue of the issuer. Due to availability of reliable data, the taxonomy aligned revenue route will only be used as data improves.

Operational contribution takes a thematic approach, looking at the promotion of climate transition (environmental) within the operational framework of the issuer, inclusive growth (social) within the operational framework of the issuer, operational alignment to an environmental or social SDG, or the application of a best-in-class proprietary environmental and social score.

This Sub-Fund did not target a specific category of sustainable investments but assessed all investments made pursuant to its overall investment strategy using the Sustainable Investment Framework. Hence, the sustainable investments made by this Sub-Fund may contribute to a variety of environmental and/or social objectives of the sustainable investments.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Issuers that were classified as contributing to a sustainable investment were also required to meet the do no significant harm (DNSH) criteria of the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework. Any issuers that do not meet the DNSH test will not qualify as a sustainable investment. A proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory indicators relating to investee companies for adverse impacts on sustainability factors ("PAIs") set out in the regulatory technical standards supplementing SFDR.

Additionally, all issuers with a very severe controversy are considered to be causing significant harm and excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

This Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors across environmental and social pillars. The PAIs were taken into account through the application of the DNSH principle outlined above for the determination of sustainable investments as well as qualitatively through the Sub-Fund's investment approach.

In regard to the consideration of the PAIs as part of the DNSH assessment of an issuer, as noted above a proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory PAIs relating to investees, and is assessed using information from an external data provider. These thresholds for significant harm have been set on a relative or absolute basis against each PAI depending on the Management Company's assessment of the worst performing investments with respect to those PAIs. Where data is not available for a specific PAI a suitable proxy metric has been identified. If both PAI and proxy PAI data (where relevant) is not available and/or applicable to complete the DNSH assessment on an issuer, such issuer is generally excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

The Sub-Fund leveraged a proprietary approach to identifying and evaluating companies which, amongst other factors, are not considered to be aligned with global norms as further described below. Following this assessment, any companies which are considered to be in violation of these global norms (including the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights) were excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY           | PAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has made sustainable investments, it did not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ In fossil gas ☐ In nuclear energy
- ☒ No

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

The two graphs below show in blue the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any "sustainable investments" within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy was 40.46%.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

The share of socially sustainable investments was 21.68%.

What investments were included under "other", what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under "other" included securities such as contingent capital securities, UCITs, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives for efficient portfolio management and issuers for which data was lacking or which fell into the lowest ESG category or otherwise became eligible for exclusion after purchased. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but neither promoted the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor qualified as sustainable investments.

These financial instruments were not subject to any minimum environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, assessing and promoting effective stewardship among the companies and issuers represented in the Sub-Fund was a key part of the investment process.

The Investment Manager has engaged with corporate issuers in this Sub-Fund that the Investment Manager believed to have low ESG credentials or involvement in sustainability related controversies, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a corporate issuer prior to or without engaging with such corporate issuer. Where applicable, the Investment Manager has engaged with sovereign issuers in this Sub-Fund that have a low E-score with the objective to encourage sovereigns to improve their overall environmental performance and to encourage enhanced disclosures of climate related metrics. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a sovereign issuer, where applicable, prior to or without engaging with such sovereign issuer.

The Global Stewardship Team focus on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. The engagements conducted by the Global Stewardship Team were designed to complement the engagements conducted by our investment teams. The Fixed Income Team regularly engaged with companies including in one-on-one and investor group settings to corporate issuers that the Investment Manager believed to have had low ESG credentials, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. Engagement with management teams was an important component of the fixed income research process, which often informed investment selection. It gave a unique insight into management quality, business model, financial performance and strategy and future business prospects.

The engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement at the firmwide-level, the Global Stewardship Team leverages our stewardship framework, which reflects thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement efforts, and will include environmental, social and governance matters that are considered to be principal in terms of potential adverse impacts.

How did this financial product perform compared with the reference benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the Portfolio.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial products attains the environmental or social characteristics that they promote.

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

From 1 October 2024 - 20 May 2025, the Sub-Fund promoted environmental and social characteristics during the reporting period. More specifically:

1. Limited investments in companies involved in controversial activities.
- During the reporting period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in issuers that realised a certain percentage of their revenue from activities related to:
- the development, production, maintenance or trade in controversial weapons (0%);
  - the controversial supply of weapons (0%);
  - the production of tobacco (≥50%);
  - the production of oil sands and controversial pipelines (>20%);
  - the extraction of thermal coal (>20%).

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Excluding investments in issuers involved in controversial activities'.

From 21 May 2025 the Investment Manager has implemented an approach to Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) considerations into its fundamental investment process as set forth below (the "ESG Criteria") over the reference period. This consisted of: (i) exclusionary screens; (ii) minimum inclusion criteria based on proprietary ESG ratings as set forth below.

As part of the ESG investment process, the Investment Manager has adhered to the ESG Criteria by avoiding investment in debt securities issued by corporate and sovereign issuers that are, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities:

- production of, and/or involvement in controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons);
- extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (thermal coal and oil sands);
- production of tobacco.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability Indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

Additionally, at least 2/3rds of the Sub-Fund's investments were in securities with a minimum ESG ABS scorecard rating equal to or greater than 50.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of investments in securities with a minimum ESG ABS scorecard rating equal to or greater than 50.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a “do not significant harm” principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The “do no significant harm” principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY           | PAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |

What was the proportion of sustainability-related investments?

Over the reference period, 76.22% of investments were aligned with the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this Sub-Fund.

What was the asset allocation?

Effective 21 May 2025, the methodology used to calculate the actual asset allocation, including assessments of ESG data availability and quality was updated. The associated updates will be reflected in future reporting reference periods.

During the reporting period the following active breach occurred to this Sub-Fund:

The breaches were without any financial impact for the Sub-Fund and resulted from cash positions (which are allocated to the 'other' non-aligned category) exceeding the minimum allocation to the 'other' category bucket causing the % of the portfolio aligned with E&S characteristics to fall below the stated minimum. These breaches have been rectified.

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy and therefore its alignment with the Taxonomy was 0%.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy’?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ In fossil gas
 ☐ In nuclear energy
- ☒ No

<sup>1</sup>Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change(“climate change mitigation”) and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objectives - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

 are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

* For the purpose of these graphs, ‘sovereign bonds’ consist of all sovereign exposures.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund has promoted environmental and social characteristics but did not make any sustainable investments. As a consequence, the Sub-Fund did not invest in a minimum share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

This question is not applicable as the Sub-Fund did not make socially sustainable investments.

What investments were included under “other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under 'other' encompass securities such as UCITS, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives (other than single named credit default swaps but inclusive of credit default swaps indices) for investment purposes or efficient portfolio management, and issuers for which data was lacking or which fell into the lowest ESG category or otherwise become eligible for exclusion after purchase. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but did not promote the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor did they qualify as sustainable investments. These investments were not subject to any minimum environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, assessing and promoting effective stewardship among the companies and issuers represented in the Sub-Fund was a key part of the investment process.

The Investment Manager has engaged with corporate issuers in this Sub-Fund that the Investment Manager believed to have low ESG credentials or involvement in sustainability related controversies, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a corporate issuer prior to or without engaging with such corporate issuer. Where applicable, the Investment Manager has engaged with sovereign issuers in this Sub-Fund that have a low E-score with the objective to encourage sovereigns to improve their overall environmental performance and to encourage enhanced disclosures of climate related metrics. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a sovereign issuer, where applicable, prior to or without engaging with such sovereign issuer.

The Global Stewardship Team focus on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. The engagements conducted by the Global Stewardship Team were designed to complement the engagements conducted by our investment teams. The Fixed Income Team regularly engaged with companies including in one-on-one and investor group settings to corporate issuers that the Investment Manager believed to have had low ESG credentials, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. Engagement with management teams was an important component of the fixed income research process, which often informed investment selection. It gave a unique insight into management quality, business model, financial performance and strategy and future business prospects.

The engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement at the firmwide-level, the Global Stewardship Team leverages our stewardship framework, which reflects thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement efforts, and will include environmental, social and governance matters that are considered to be principal in terms of potential adverse impacts.

How did this financial product perform compared with the reference benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial products attains the environmental or social characteristics that they promote.

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

From 1 October 2024 - 20 May 2025, the Sub-Fund promoted environmental and social characteristics during the reporting period. More specifically:

- Limited investments in companies involved in controversial activities.
During the reporting period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in issuers that realised a certain percentage of their revenue from activities related to:
  - the development, production, maintenance or trade in controversial weapons (0%);
  - the controversial supply of weapons (0%);
  - the production of tobacco (≥50%);
  - the production of oil sands and controversial pipelines (>20%);
  - the extraction of thermal coal (>20%).

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Excluding investments in issuers involved in controversial activities'.

From 21 May 2025, the Investment Manager has implemented an approach to Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) considerations into its fundamental investment process as set forth below (the "ESG Criteria") over the reference period. This consisted of: (i) exclusionary screens; and (ii) Sub-Fund level environmental score (E-score) targets as set forth below.

As part of the ESG investment process, the Investment Manager has adhered to the ESG Criteria by avoiding investment in debt securities issued by corporate and sovereign issuers that are, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities:

- production of, and/or involvement in controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons);
  - extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (thermal coal and oil sands);
  - production of tobacco.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability Indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

The Sub-Fund has also excluded investments in countries that were subject to country-wide arms embargo sanctions imposed by the United Nations Security Council, and countries on the global money laundering and terrorist financing watchdog, Financial Action Task Force list, that were subject to a "Call for Action".

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of excluding investments in countries subject to country-wide arms embargo sanctions imposed by the United Nations Security Council, and countries on the Financial Action Task Force list, that are subject to a 'Call for Action'.

Additionally, the Sub-Fund has achieved a higher environmental score (E-score) relative to the Reference Portfolio/Benchmark.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Environmental score (E-score) vs Benchmark.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a “do not significant harm” principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The “do no significant harm” principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY   | PAI                                                                                                                                                                  |

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy and therefore its alignment with the Taxonomy was 0%.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy<sup>1</sup>?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ In fossil gas
 ☐ In nuclear energy
- ☒ No

The two graphs below show in blue the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

* For the purpose of these graphs, ‘sovereign bonds’ consist of all sovereign exposures.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund has promoted environmental and social characteristics but did not make any sustainable investments. As a consequence, the Sub-Fund did not invest in a minimum share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

This question is not applicable as the Sub-Fund did not make socially sustainable investments.

<sup>1</sup>Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change(“climate change mitigation”) and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objectives - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

What investments were included under “other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under 'other' encompass securities such as contingent capital securities, UCITS, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives (other than single named credit default swaps but inclusive of credit default swaps indices) for investment purposes or efficient portfolio management, and issuers for which data was lacking or which fell into the lowest ESG category or otherwise become eligible for exclusion after purchase. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but did not promote the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor did they qualify as sustainable investments. These investments were not subject to any minimum environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, assessing and promoting effective stewardship among the companies and issuers represented in the Sub-Fund was a key part of the investment process.

The Investment Manager has engaged with corporate issuers in this Sub-Fund that the Investment Manager believed to have low ESG credentials or involvement in sustainability related controversies, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a corporate issuer prior to or without engaging with such corporate issuer. Where applicable, the Investment Manager has engaged with sovereign issuers in this Sub-Fund that have a low E-score with the objective to encourage sovereigns to improve their overall environmental performance and to encourage enhanced disclosures of climate related metrics. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a sovereign issuer, where applicable, prior to or without engaging with such sovereign issuer.

The Global Stewardship Team focus on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. The engagements conducted by the Global Stewardship Team were designed to complement the engagements conducted by our investment teams. The Fixed Income Team regularly engaged with companies including in one-on-one and investor group settings to corporate issuers that the Investment Manager believed to have had low ESG credentials, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. Engagement with management teams was an important component of the fixed income research process, which often informed investment selection. It gave a unique insight into management quality, business model, financial performance and strategy and future business prospects.

The engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement at the firmwide-level, the Global Stewardship Team leverages our stewardship framework, which reflects thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement efforts, and will include environmental, social and governance matters that are considered to be principal in terms of potential adverse impacts.

How did this financial product perform compared with the reference benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial products attains the environmental or social characteristics that they promote.

Periodic disclosure for financial products referred to in Article 9 (1), (2) and (3) of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 and Article 5 of Regulation (EU) 2020/852

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability indicators measure how the sustainable objectives of this financial product are attained.

To what extent was the sustainable investment objective of this financial product met?

During the reference period, the Sub-Fund aimed to contribute to creating a more sustainable future by investing in corporate green, social and sustainability bonds as defined by the International Capital Markets Association (ICMA) Green Bond Principles, ICMA Social Bond Principles and ICMA Sustainability Bond Guidelines.

Green bonds are bonds whose proceeds are used to finance climate and environmental projects contributing to positive benefits to the environment. Social bonds are bonds whose proceeds are used to finance projects that are beneficial to society. Sustainability bonds include projects whose proceeds positively contribute to both the environment and society, and include the principles of both the green and social bonds.

To achieve this, the green bond investments of the Sub-Fund aligned with the ICMA Green Bond Principles, ICMA Social Bond Principles and the following categories:

- Renewable energy
- Energy efficiency
- Pollution prevention and control
- Environmentally sustainable management of living natural resources and land use
- Terrestrial and aquatic biodiversity
- Clean transportation
- Sustainable water and wastewater management
- Climate change adaptation
- Circular economy adapted products, production technologies and processes
- Consumption and Production
- Green buildings
- Affordable basic infrastructure
- Access to essential services
- Affordable housing
- Employment generation
- Food security and sustainable food systems
- Socioeconomic advancement and empowerment.

The performance of these characteristics are measured by the following performance indicators:
Percentage invested in green, social & bonds.

The Sub-Fund also aimed to invest in issuers that engage in economic activities contributing to climate change mitigation objectives as set out in Article 10 of the Taxonomy Regulation, and in issuers that engage in economic activities contributing to other environmental objectives as set out in Article 9 of the Taxonomy Regulation, or in economic activities contributing to other environmental objectives not covered by the Taxonomy Regulation.

The performance of these characteristics are measured by the following performance indicators:
Percentage of Taxonomy alignment.

The Sub-Fund additionally has not invested in companies that are, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities, which over the reference period included but were not limited to:

- production of, and/or involvement in controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons),
- extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (including thermal coal, oil sands, shale oil and gas, arctic oil and gas),
- tobacco production,
- adult entertainment,
- fur and leather,
- firearms,
- gambling.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the sustainable investment objective of the Sub-Fund. The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the investment objective of the Sub-Fund.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Issuers that were classified as contributing to a sustainable investment were also required to meet the do no significant harm (DNSH) criteria of the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework. Any issuers that do not meet the DNSH test will not qualify as a sustainable investment. A proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory indicators relating to investee companies for adverse impacts on sustainability factors ("PAIs") set out in the regulatory technical standards supplementing SFDR.

Additionally, all issuers with a very severe controversy are considered to be causing significant harm and excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

This Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors across environmental and social pillars. The PAIs were taken into account through the application of the DNSH principle outlined above for the determination of sustainable investments as well as qualitatively through the Sub-Fund's investment approach.

In regard to the consideration of the PAIs as part of the DNSH assessment of an issuer, as noted above a proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory PAIs relating to investees, and is assessed using information from an external data provider. These thresholds for significant harm have been set on a relative or absolute basis against each PAI depending on the Management Company's assessment of the worst performing investments with respect to those PAIs. Where data is not available for a specific PAI a suitable proxy metric has been identified. If both PAI and proxy PAI data (where relevant) is not available and/or applicable to complete the DNSH assessment on an issuer, such issuer is generally excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

The Sub-Fund leveraged a proprietary approach to identifying and evaluating companies which, amongst other factors, are not considered to be aligned with global norms as further described below. Following this assessment, any companies which are considered to be in violation of these global norms (including the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights) were excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has made sustainable investments, it did not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy’?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ In fossil gas
 ☐ In nuclear energy
- ☒ No

The two graphs below show in blue the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

* For the purpose of these graphs, ‘sovereign bonds’ consist of all sovereign exposures.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has invested in sustainable investments, it does not specifically commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that are not aligned with the EU Taxonomy. Hence, the minimum commitment is 0%.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

The share of socially sustainable investments was 17.23%.

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

*Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change(“climate change mitigation”) and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objectives - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

What investments were included under “not sustainable”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under “#2 Not sustainable” included securities such as contingent capital securities, UCITs, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives for efficient portfolio management and issuers for which data was lacking or which fell into the lowest ESG category or otherwise became eligible for exclusion after purchased. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but neither promoted the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor qualified as sustainable investments.

What actions have been taken to attain the sustainable investment objective during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, assessing and promoting effective stewardship among the companies and issuers represented in the Sub-Fund was a key part of the investment process.

The Investment Manager has engaged with corporate issuers in this Sub-Fund that the Investment Manager believed to have low ESG credentials or involvement in sustainability related controversies, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a corporate issuer prior to or without engaging with such corporate issuer. Where applicable, the Investment Manager has engaged with sovereign issuers in this Sub-Fund that have a low E-score with the objective to encourage sovereigns to improve their overall environmental performance and to encourage enhanced disclosures of climate related metrics. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a sovereign issuer, where applicable, prior to or without engaging with such sovereign issuer.

The Global Stewardship Team focus on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. The engagements conducted by the Global Stewardship Team were designed to complement the engagements conducted by our investment teams. The Fixed Income Team regularly engaged with companies including in one-on-one and investor group settings to corporate issuers that the Investment Manager believed to have had low ESG credentials, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. Engagement with management teams was an important component of the fixed income research process, which often informed investment selection. It gave a unique insight into management quality, business model, financial performance and strategy and future business prospects.

The engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement at the firmwide-level, the Global Stewardship Team leverages our stewardship framework, which reflects thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement efforts, and will include environmental, social and governance matters that are considered to be principal in terms of potential adverse impacts.

How did this financial product perform compared to the reference sustainable benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the sustainable investment objective.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial product attains the sustainable objective.

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

From 1 October 2024 - 20 May 2025, the Sub-Fund promoted environmental and social characteristics during the reporting period. More specifically:

Excluding countries.
During the reporting period, no investments have been made in countries against which arms embargoes have been imposed by the United Nations Security Council. Similarly, investments are not made in countries included in the Financial Action Task Force list, which are subject to a 'Call for Action'.

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator "Excluding investments in countries subject to country-wide arms embargo sanctions imposed by the United Nations Security Council, and countries on the Financial Action Task Force list, that are subject to a 'Call for Action'".

From 21 May 2025, the Sub-Fund has committed to a minimum of 5% sustainable investments. The Investment Manager has implemented an approach to Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) considerations into its fundamental investment process as set forth below (the "ESG Criteria") over the reference period. This consisted of minimum inclusion criteria based on proprietary ESG ratings as set forth below.

The screening process for the Sub-Fund excluded government and corporate issuers that have the lowest category of ESG ratings according to the Investment Manager's proprietary internal scoring system.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of corporate and sovereign issuers with an ESG rating of less than or equal to 1.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.
The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability Indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

The consideration of investments made by the Sub-Fund as sustainable investments was determined by reference to the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework, which includes an assessment as to whether the investment contributes to an environmental and/or social objective. Under this framework, an investment is considered to be contributing to an environmental and/or social objective via either a product or operational contribution.

Product contribution considers either i) the proportion of an issuer's revenue dedicated to an environmentally and/or socially sustainable impact category, ii) the alignment of a product to an environmental and/or social Sustainable Development Goal (SDG), iii) best-in-class scoring of an issue(r) as against environmental and/or social opportunities themes defined by an external data provider, or iv) the percentage of taxonomy aligned revenue of the issuer. Due to availability of reliable data, the taxonomy aligned revenue route will only be used as data improves.

Operational contribution takes a thematic approach, looking at the promotion of climate transition (environmental) within the operational framework of the issuer, inclusive growth (social) within the operational framework of the issuer, operational alignment to an environmental or social SDG, or the application of a best-in-class proprietary environmental and social score.

This Sub-Fund did not target a specific category of sustainable investments but assessed all investments made pursuant to its overall investment strategy using the Sustainable Investment Framework. Hence, the sustainable investments made by this Sub-Fund may contribute to a variety of environmental and/or social objectives of the sustainable investments.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Issuers that were classified as contributing to a sustainable investment were also required to meet the do no significant harm (DNSH) criteria of the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework. Any issuers that do not meet the DNSH test will not qualify as a sustainable investment. A proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory indicators relating to investee companies for adverse impacts on sustainability factors ("PAIs") set out in the regulatory technical standards supplementing SFDR.

Additionally, all issuers with a very severe controversy are considered to be causing significant harm and excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

This Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors across environmental and social pillars. The PAIs were taken into account through the application of the DNSH principle outlined above for the determination of sustainable investments as well as qualitatively through the Sub-Fund's investment approach.

In regard to the consideration of the PAIs as part of the DNSH assessment of an issuer, as noted above a proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory PAIs relating to investees, and is assessed using information from an external data provider. These thresholds for significant harm have been set on a relative or absolute basis against each PAI depending on the Management Company's assessment of the worst performing investments with respect to those PAIs. Where data is not available for a specific PAI a suitable proxy metric has been identified. If both PAI and proxy PAI data (where relevant) is not available and/or applicable to complete the DNSH assessment on an issuer, such issuer is generally excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

The Sub-Fund leveraged a proprietary approach to identifying and evaluating companies which, amongst other factors, are not considered to be aligned with global norms as further described below. Following this assessment, any companies which are considered to be in violation of these global norms (including the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights) were excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a “do not significant harm” principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The “do no significant harm” principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY           | PAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has made sustainable investments, it did not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy¹?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ In fossil gas

☐ In nuclear energy
- ☒ No

The two graphs below show in blue the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any "sustainable investments" within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has invested in sustainable investments, it did not specifically commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that are not aligned with the EU Taxonomy. Hence, the minimum commitment is 0%.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has made sustainable investments, it did not specifically commit to a minimum proportion of socially sustainable investments. Hence, the minimum commitment is 0%.

As noted above, whether investments made by this Sub-Fund were sustainable investments is determined by reference to the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework for assessing the contribution of investments to environmental and/or social objectives. This product did not target one specific category of sustainable investments, but instead assesses all investments made pursuant to its overall investment strategy using the framework.

¹Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change("climate change mitigation") and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objectives - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

What investments were included under “other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under “other” included securities such as contingent capital securities, UCITs, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives for efficient portfolio management and issuers for which data was lacking or which fell into the lowest ESG category or otherwise became eligible for exclusion after purchased. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but neither promoted the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor qualified as sustainable investments.

These financial instruments were not subject to any minimum environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, assessing and promoting effective stewardship among the companies and issuers represented in the Sub-Fund was a key part of the investment process.

The Investment Manager has engaged with corporate issuers in this Sub-Fund that the Investment Manager believed to have low ESG credentials or involvement in sustainability related controversies, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a corporate issuer prior to or without engaging with such corporate issuer. Where applicable, the Investment Manager has engaged with sovereign issuers in this Sub-Fund that have a low E-score with the objective to encourage sovereigns to improve their overall environmental performance and to encourage enhanced disclosures of climate related metrics. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a sovereign issuer, where applicable, prior to or without engaging with such sovereign issuer.

The Global Stewardship Team focus on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. The engagements conducted by the Global Stewardship Team were designed to complement the engagements conducted by our investment teams. The Fixed Income Team regularly engaged with companies including in one-on-one and investor group settings to corporate issuers that the Investment Manager believed to have had low ESG credentials, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. Engagement with management teams was an important component of the fixed income research process, which often informed investment selection. It gave a unique insight into management quality, business model, financial performance and strategy and future business prospects.

The engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement at the firmwide-level, the Global Stewardship Team leverages our stewardship framework, which reflects thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement efforts, and will include environmental, social and governance matters that are considered to be principal in terms of potential adverse impacts.

To what extent was the sustainable investment objective of this financial product met?

During the reference period, the Sub-Fund aimed to contribute to creating a more sustainable future by investing in bonds, the proceeds of which were used to finance climate and environmental projects that provided positive benefits to the environment. To achieve this, the Sub-Fund applied the Management Company's proprietary Green, Social & Sustainability Bond Assessment Methodology and invested in both new and existing projects aligned with the International Capital Markets Association (ICMA) Green Bond Principles and the following categories:

- Renewable energy
- Energy efficiency
- Pollution prevention and control
- Environmentally sustainable management of living natural resources and land use
- Terrestrial and aquatic biodiversity
- Clean transportation
- Sustainable water and wastewater management
- Climate change adaptation
- Circular economy adapted products, production technologies and processes
- Consumption and Production
- Green buildings

The performance of these characteristics are measured by the following performance indicators: Percentage invested in green bonds.

The Sub-Fund also aimed to invest in issuers that engage in economic activities contributing to climate change mitigation objectives as set out in Article 10 of the Taxonomy Regulation, and in issuers that engage in economic activities contributing to other environmental objectives as set out in Article 9 of the Taxonomy Regulation, or in economic activities contributing to other environmental objectives not covered by the Taxonomy Regulation.

The performance of these characteristics are measured by the following performance indicators: Percentage of Taxonomy alignment.

The Sub-Fund additionally has not invested in companies that are, in the opinion of the Investment

Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities, which over the reference period included but were not limited to:

- production of, and/or involvement in controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons),
- extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (including thermal coal, oil sands, shale oil and gas, arctic oil and gas),
- tobacco production,
- adult entertainment,
- fur and leather,
- firearms,
- gambling.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the sustainable investment objective of the Sub-Fund. The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the investment objective of the Sub-Fund.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Issuers that were classified as contributing to a sustainable investment were also required to meet the do no significant harm (DNSH) criteria of the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework. Any issuers that do not meet the DNSH test will not qualify as a sustainable investment. A proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory indicators relating to investee companies for adverse impacts on sustainability factors ("PAIs") set out in the regulatory technical standards supplementing SFDR.

Additionally, all issuers with a very severe controversy are considered to be causing significant harm and excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

This Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors across environmental and social pillars. The PAIs were taken into account through the application of the DNSH principle outlined above for the determination of sustainable investments as well as qualitatively through the Sub-Fund's investment approach.

In regard to the consideration of the PAIs as part of the DNSH assessment of an issuer, as noted above a proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory PAIs relating to investees, and is assessed using information from an external data provider. These thresholds for significant harm have been set on a relative or absolute basis against each PAI depending on the Management Company's assessment of the worst performing investments with respect to those PAIs. Where data is not available for a specific PAI a suitable proxy metric has been identified. If both PAI and proxy PAI data (where relevant) is not available and/or applicable to complete the DNSH assessment on an issuer, such issuer is generally excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

The Sub-Fund leveraged a proprietary approach to identifying and evaluating companies which, amongst other factors, are not considered to be aligned with global norms as further described below. Following this assessment, any companies which are considered to be in violation of these global norms (including the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights) were excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY           | PAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The Management Company calculated the Taxonomy alignment percentage based on the data provided by the issuers of the bonds.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy<sup>1</sup>?

☐ Yes

☐ In fossil gas

☒ No

<sup>1</sup>Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change ("climate change mitigation") and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objectives - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

The EU Taxonomy alignment figures which have been included within this report have been calculated based on an assessment of the use of proceeds of the bonds in the portfolio in accordance with our proprietary Green, Social and Sustainability Bond Assessment Methodology rather than being based on the Turnover, CapEx or OpEx of the issuers of the bonds. Accordingly, a breakdown of Taxonomy alignment by Turnover, CapEx and OpEx is not applicable to the portfolio.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

During the reporting period the Taxonomy aligned percentage was 44.22% compared to previous reporting period 37.91%.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy was 54.48%.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has made sustainable investments, it did not specifically commit to a minimum proportion of socially sustainable investments. Hence, the minimum commitment is 0%.

As noted above, whether investments made by this Sub-Fund were sustainable investments is determined by reference to the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework for assessing the contribution of investments to environmental and/or social objectives.

This product did not target one specific category of sustainable investments, but instead assesses all investments made pursuant to its overall investment strategy using the framework.

What investments were included under “not sustainable”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under “#2 Not sustainable” included securities such as contingent capital securities, UCITs, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives for efficient portfolio management and issuers for which data was lacking or which fell into the lowest ESG category or otherwise became eligible for exclusion after purchased. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but neither promoted the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor qualified as sustainable investments.

What actions have been taken to attain the sustainable investment objective during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, assessing and promoting effective stewardship among the companies and issuers represented in the Sub-Fund was a key part of the investment process.

The Investment Manager has engaged with corporate issuers in this Sub-Fund that the Investment Manager believed to have low ESG credentials or involvement in sustainability related controversies, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a corporate issuer prior to or without engaging with such corporate issuer. Where applicable, the Investment Manager has engaged with sovereign issuers in this Sub-Fund that have a low E-score with the objective to encourage sovereigns to improve their overall environmental performance and to encourage enhanced disclosures of climate related metrics. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a sovereign issuer, where applicable, prior to or without engaging with such sovereign issuer.

The Global Stewardship Team focus on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. The engagements conducted by the Global Stewardship Team were designed to complement the engagements conducted by our investment teams. The Fixed Income Team regularly engaged with companies including in one-on-one and investor group settings to corporate issuers that the Investment Manager believed to have had low ESG credentials, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. Engagement with management teams was an important component of the fixed income research process, which often informed investment selection. It gave a unique insight into management quality, business model, financial performance and strategy and future business prospects.

The engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement at the firmwide-level, the Global Stewardship Team leverages our stewardship framework, which reflects thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement efforts, and will include environmental, social and governance matters that are considered to be principal in terms of potential adverse impacts.

How did this financial product perform compared to the reference sustainable benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the sustainable investment objective.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial product attains the sustainable objective.

Periodic disclosure for financial products referred to in Article 9 (1), (2) and (3) of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 and Article 5 of Regulation (EU) 2020/852

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability indicators measure how the sustainable objectives of this financial product are attained.

To what extent was the sustainable investment objective of this financial product met?

During the reference period, the Sub-Fund aimed to contribute to creating a more sustainable future by investing in bonds, the proceeds of which were used to finance climate and environmental projects that provided positive benefits to the environment. To achieve this, the Sub-Fund applied the Management Company's proprietary Green, Social & Sustainability Bond Assessment Methodology and invested in both new and existing projects aligned with the International Capital Markets Association (ICMA) Green Bond Principles and the following categories:

- Renewable energy
- Energy efficiency
- Pollution prevention and control
- Environmentally sustainable management of living natural resources and land use
- Terrestrial and aquatic biodiversity
- Clean transportation
- Sustainable water and wastewater management
- Climate change adaptation
- Circular economy adapted products, production technologies and processes
- Consumption and Production
- Green buildings

The performance of these characteristics are measured by the following performance indicators: Percentage invested in green bonds.

The Sub-Fund also aimed to invest in issuers that engage in economic activities contributing to climate change mitigation objectives as set out in Article 10 of the Taxonomy Regulation, and in issuers that engage in economic activities contributing to other environmental objectives as set out in Article 9 of the Taxonomy Regulation, or in economic activities contributing to other environmental objectives not covered by the Taxonomy Regulation.

The performance of these characteristics are measured by the following performance indicators: Percentage of Taxonomy alignment.

The Sub-Fund additionally has not invested in companies that are, in the opinion of the Investment

Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities, which over the reference period included but were not limited to:

- production of, and/or involvement in controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons),
- extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (including thermal coal, oil sands, shale oil and gas, arctic oil and gas),
- tobacco production,
- adult entertainment,
- fur and leather,
- firearms,
- gambling.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the sustainable investment objective of the Sub-Fund. The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the investment objective of the Sub-Fund.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Issuers that were classified as contributing to a sustainable investment were also required to meet the do no significant harm (DNSH) criteria of the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework. Any issuers that do not meet the DNSH test will not qualify as a sustainable investment. A proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory indicators relating to investee companies for adverse impacts on sustainability factors ("PAIs") set out in the regulatory technical standards supplementing SFDR.

Additionally, all issuers with a very severe controversy are considered to be causing significant harm and excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

This Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors across environmental and social pillars. The PAIs were taken into account through the application of the DNSH principle outlined above for the determination of sustainable investments as well as qualitatively through the Sub-Fund's investment approach.

In regard to the consideration of the PAIs as part of the DNSH assessment of an issuer, as noted above a proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory PAIs relating to investees, and is assessed using information from an external data provider. These thresholds for significant harm have been set on a relative or absolute basis against each PAI depending on the Management Company's assessment of the worst performing investments with respect to those PAIs. Where data is not available for a specific PAI a suitable proxy metric has been identified. If both PAI and proxy PAI data (where relevant) is not available and/or applicable to complete the DNSH assessment on an issuer, such issuer is generally excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

The Sub-Fund leveraged a proprietary approach to identifying and evaluating companies which, amongst other factors, are not considered to be aligned with global norms as further described below. Following this assessment, any companies which are considered to be in violation of these global norms (including the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights) were excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY           | PAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions

The Management Company calculated the Taxonomy alignment percentage based on the data provided by the issuers of the bonds.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy<sup>1</sup>?

and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ In fossil gas ☐ In nuclear energy
- ☒ No

The two graphs below show in blue the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

The EU Taxonomy alignment figures which have been included within this report have been calculated based on an assessment of the use of proceeds of the bonds in the portfolio in accordance with our proprietary Green, Social and Sustainability Bond Assessment Methodology rather than being based on the Turnover, CapEx or OpEx of the issuers of the bonds. Accordingly, a breakdown of Taxonomy alignment by Turnover, CapEx and OpEx is not applicable to the portfolio.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any "sustainable investments" within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

During the reporting period the Taxonomy aligned percentage was 40.81% compared to previous reporting period 39.31%.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy was 56.26%.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has made sustainable investments, it did not specifically commit to a minimum proportion of socially sustainable investments. Hence, the minimum commitment is 0%.

As noted above, whether investments made by this Sub-Fund were sustainable investments is determined by reference to the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework for assessing the contribution of investments to environmental and/or social objectives.

This product did not target one specific category of sustainable investments, but instead assesses all investments made pursuant to its overall investment strategy using the framework.

What investments were included under "not sustainable", what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under "#2 Not sustainable" included securities such as contingent capital securities, UCITs, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives for efficient portfolio management and issuers for which data was lacking or which fell into the lowest ESG category or otherwise became eligible for exclusion after purchased. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but neither promoted the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor qualified as sustainable investments.

What actions have been taken to attain the sustainable investment objective during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, assessing and promoting effective stewardship among the companies and issuers represented in the Sub-Fund was a key part of the investment process.

The Investment Manager has engaged with corporate issuers in this Sub-Fund that the Investment Manager believed to have low ESG credentials or involvement in sustainability related controversies, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a corporate issuer prior to or without engaging with such corporate issuer. Where applicable, the Investment Manager has engaged with sovereign issuers in this Sub-Fund that have a low E-score with the objective to encourage sovereigns to improve their overall environmental performance and to encourage enhanced disclosures of climate related metrics. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a sovereign issuer, where applicable, prior to or without engaging with such sovereign issuer.

The Global Stewardship Team focus on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. The engagements conducted by the Global Stewardship Team were designed to complement the engagements conducted by our investment teams. The Fixed Income Team regularly engaged with companies including in one-on-one and investor group settings to corporate issuers that the Investment Manager believed to have had low ESG credentials, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. Engagement with management teams was an important component of the fixed income research process, which often informed investment selection. It gave a unique insight into management quality, business model, financial performance and strategy and future business prospects.

The engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement at the firmwide-level, the Global Stewardship Team leverages our stewardship framework, which reflects thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement efforts, and will include environmental, social and governance matters that are considered to be principal in terms of potential adverse impacts.

How did this financial product perform compared to the reference sustainable benchmark?

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial product attains the sustainable objective.

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the sustainable investment objective.

To what extent was the sustainable investment objective of this financial product met?

During the reference period, the Sub-Fund aimed to contribute to creating a more sustainable future by investing in bonds, the proceeds of which were used to finance or refinance, in part or in full, new and/or existing projects that provided positive benefits to society. To achieve this, the Sub-Fund applied the Management Company's proprietary Green, Social & Sustainability Bond Assessment Methodology and invested in social bonds (as defined by the ICMA Social Bond Principles) from issuers that generate a positive societal impact alongside a financial return. The Sub-Fund aimed to address or mitigate specific social issues and/or seek to achieve positive social outcomes that are aligned with the ICMA Social Bond Principles and the following categories:

- Affordable basic infrastructure
- Access to essential services
- Affordable housing
- Employment generation
- Food security and sustainable food systems
- Socioeconomic advancement and empowerment.

The performance of these characteristics are measured by the following performance indicators: Percentage invested in social bonds.

The Sub-Fund additionally has not invested in companies that are, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities, which over the reference period included but were not limited to:

- production of, and/or involvement in controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons),
- extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (including thermal coal, oil sands, shale oil and gas, arctic oil and gas),
- tobacco production,
- adult entertainment,
- fur and leather,
- firearms,
- gambling.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the sustainable investment objective of the Sub-Fund. The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the investment objective of the Sub-Fund.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Issuers that were classified as contributing to a sustainable investment were also required to meet the do no significant harm (DNSH) criteria of the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework. Any issuers that do not meet the DNSH test will not qualify as a sustainable investment. A proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory indicators relating to investee companies for adverse impacts on sustainability factors ("PAIs") set out in the regulatory technical standards supplementing SFDR.

Additionally, all issuers with a very severe controversy are considered to be causing significant harm and excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

This Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors across environmental and social pillars. The PAIs were taken into account through the application of the DNSH principle outlined above for the determination of sustainable investments as well as qualitatively through the Sub-Fund's investment approach.

In regard to the consideration of the PAIs as part of the DNSH assessment of an issuer, as noted above a proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory PAIs relating to investees, and is assessed using information from an external data provider. These thresholds for significant harm have been set on a relative or absolute basis against each PAI depending on the Management Company's assessment of the worst performing investments with respect to those PAIs. Where data is not available for a specific PAI a suitable proxy metric has been identified. If both PAI and proxy PAI data (where relevant) is not available and/or applicable to complete the DNSH assessment on an issuer, such issuer is generally excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

The Sub-Fund leveraged a proprietary approach to identifying and evaluating companies which, amongst other factors, are not considered to be aligned with global norms as further described below. Following this assessment, any companies which are considered to be in violation of these global norms (including the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights) were excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY           | PAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has made sustainable investments, it did not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy<sup>1</sup>?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ In fossil gas ☐ In nuclear energy
- ☒ No

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any "sustainable investments" within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has invested in sustainable investments, it did not specifically commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that are not aligned with the EU Taxonomy. Hence, the minimum commitment is 0%.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

The share of socially sustainable investments was 97.74%.

What investments were included under “not sustainable”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under “#2 Not sustainable” included securities such as contingent capital securities, UCITs, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives for efficient portfolio management and issuers for which data was lacking or which fell into the lowest ESG category or otherwise became eligible for exclusion after purchased. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but neither promoted the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor qualified as sustainable investments.

What actions have been taken to attain the sustainable investment objective during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, assessing and promoting effective stewardship among the companies and issuers represented in the Sub-Fund was a key part of the investment process.

The Investment Manager has engaged with corporate issuers in this Sub-Fund that the Investment Manager believed to have low ESG credentials or involvement in sustainability related controversies, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a corporate issuer prior to or without engaging with such corporate issuer. Where applicable, the Investment Manager has engaged with sovereign issuers in this Sub-Fund that have a low E-score with the objective to encourage sovereigns to improve their overall environmental performance and to encourage enhanced disclosures of climate related metrics. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a sovereign issuer, where applicable, prior to or without engaging with such sovereign issuer.

The Global Stewardship Team focus on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. The engagements conducted by the Global Stewardship Team were designed to complement the engagements conducted by our investment teams. The Fixed Income Team regularly engaged with companies including in one-on-one and investor group settings to corporate issuers that the Investment Manager believed to have had low ESG credentials, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. Engagement with management teams was an important component of the fixed income research process, which often informed investment selection. It gave a unique insight into management quality, business model, financial performance and strategy and future business prospects.

The engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement at the firmwide-level, the Global Stewardship Team leverages our stewardship framework, which reflects thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement efforts, and will include environmental, social and governance matters that are considered to be principal in terms of potential adverse impacts.

How did this financial product perform compared to the reference sustainable benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the sustainable investment objective.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial product attains the sustainable objective.

To what extent was the sustainable investment objective of this financial product met?

During the reference period, the Sub-Fund aimed to contribute to creating a more sustainable future by investing in bonds, the proceeds of which were used to finance climate and environmental projects that provided positive benefits to the environment. To achieve this, the Sub-Fund applied the Management Company's proprietary Green, Social & Sustainability Bond Assessment Methodology and invested in both new and existing projects aligned with the International Capital Markets Association (ICMA) Green Bond Principles and the following categories:

- Renewable energy
- Energy efficiency
- Pollution prevention and control
- Environmentally sustainable management of living natural resources and land use
- Terrestrial and aquatic biodiversity
- Clean transportation
- Sustainable water and wastewater management
- Climate change adaptation
- Circular economy adapted products, production technologies and processes
- Consumption and Production
- Green buildings

The performance of these characteristics are measured by the following performance indicators: Percentage invested in green bonds.

The Sub-Fund also aimed to invest in issuers that engage in economic activities contributing to climate change mitigation objectives as set out in Article 10 of the Taxonomy Regulation, and in issuers that engage in economic activities contributing to other environmental objectives as set out in Article 9 of the Taxonomy Regulation, or in economic activities contributing to other environmental objectives not covered by the Taxonomy Regulation.

The performance of these characteristics are measured by the following performance indicators: Percentage of Taxonomy alignment.

The Sub-Fund additionally has not invested in companies that are, in the opinion of the Investment

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability indicators measure how the sustainable objectives of this financial product are attained.

Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities, which over the reference period included but were not limited to:

- production of, and/or involvement in controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons),
- extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (including thermal coal, oil sands, shale oil and gas, arctic oil and gas),
- tobacco production,
- adult entertainment,
- fur and leather,
- firearms,
- gambling.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the sustainable investment objective of the Sub-Fund. The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the investment objective of the Sub-Fund.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Issuers that were classified as contributing to a sustainable investment were also required to meet the do no significant harm (DNSH) criteria of the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework. Any issuers that do not meet the DNSH test will not qualify as a sustainable investment. A proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory indicators relating to investee companies for adverse impacts on sustainability factors ("PAIs") set out in the regulatory technical standards supplementing SFDR.

Additionally, all issuers with a very severe controversy are considered to be causing significant harm and excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

This Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors across environmental and social pillars. The PAIs were taken into account through the application of the DNSH principle outlined above for the determination of sustainable investments as well as qualitatively through the Sub-Fund's investment approach.

In regard to the consideration of the PAIs as part of the DNSH assessment of an issuer, as noted above a proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory PAIs relating to investees, and is assessed using information from an external data provider. These thresholds for significant harm have been set on a relative or absolute basis against each PAI depending on the Management Company's assessment of the worst performing investments with respect to those PAIs. Where data is not available for a specific PAI a suitable proxy metric has been identified. If both PAI and proxy PAI data (where relevant) is not available and/or applicable to complete the DNSH assessment on an issuer, such issuer is generally excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

The Sub-Fund leveraged a proprietary approach to identifying and evaluating companies which, amongst other factors, are not considered to be aligned with global norms as further described below. Following this assessment, any companies which are considered to be in violation of these global norms (including the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights) were excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY           | PAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

What was the proportion of sustainability-related investments?

Asset allocation describes the share of investments in specific assets.

Over the reference period, 98.53% of investments were aligned to the sustainable investment objective of the Sub-Fund.

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

The EU Taxonomy alignment figures which have been included within this report have been calculated based on an assessment of the use of proceeds of the bonds in the portfolio in accordance with our proprietary Green, Social and Sustainability Bond Assessment Methodology rather than being based on the Turnover, CapEx or OpEx of the issuers of the bonds. Accordingly, a breakdown of Taxonomy alignment by Turnover, CapEx and OpEx is not applicable to the portfolio.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any "sustainable investments" within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

During the reporting period the Taxonomy aligned percentage was 42.88% compared to previous reporting period 38.87%.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy was 55.65%.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has made sustainable investments, it did not specifically commit to a minimum proportion of socially sustainable investments. Hence, the minimum commitment is 0%.

As noted above, whether investments made by this Sub-Fund were sustainable investments is determined by reference to the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework for assessing the contribution of investments to environmental and/or social objectives.

This product did not target one specific category of sustainable investments, but instead assesses all investments made pursuant to its overall investment strategy using the framework.

*Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change ("climate change mitigation") and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objectives - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

What investments were included under “not sustainable”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under “#2 Not sustainable” included securities such as contingent capital securities, UCITs, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives for efficient portfolio management and issuers for which data was lacking or which fell into the lowest ESG category or otherwise became eligible for exclusion after purchased. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but neither promoted the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor qualified as sustainable investments.

What actions have been taken to attain the sustainable investment objective during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, assessing and promoting effective stewardship among the companies and issuers represented in the Sub-Fund was a key part of the investment process.

The Investment Manager has engaged with corporate issuers in this Sub-Fund that the Investment Manager believed to have low ESG credentials or involvement in sustainability related controversies, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a corporate issuer prior to or without engaging with such corporate issuer. Where applicable, the Investment Manager has engaged with sovereign issuers in this Sub-Fund that have a low E-score with the objective to encourage sovereigns to improve their overall environmental performance and to encourage enhanced disclosures of climate related metrics. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a sovereign issuer, where applicable, prior to or without engaging with such sovereign issuer.

The Global Stewardship Team focus on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. The engagements conducted by the Global Stewardship Team were designed to complement the engagements conducted by our investment teams. The Fixed Income Team regularly engaged with companies including in one-on-one and investor group settings to corporate issuers that the Investment Manager believed to have had low ESG credentials, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. Engagement with management teams was an important component of the fixed income research process, which often informed investment selection. It gave a unique insight into management quality, business model, financial performance and strategy and future business prospects.

The engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement at the firmwide-level, the Global Stewardship Team leverages our stewardship framework, which reflects thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement efforts, and will include environmental, social and governance matters that are considered to be principal in terms of potential adverse impacts.

How did this financial product perform compared to the reference sustainable benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the sustainable investment objective.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial product attains the sustainable objective.

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

From 1 October 2024 - 20 May 2025, the Sub-Fund promoted environmental and social characteristics during the reporting period. More specifically:

- Limited investments in companies involved in controversial activities.
During the reporting period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in issuers that realised a certain percentage of their revenue from activities related to:
  - the development, production, maintenance or trade in controversial weapons (0%);
  - the controversial supply of weapons (0%);
  - the production of tobacco (≥50%);
  - the production of oil sands and controversial pipelines (>20%);
  - the extraction of thermal coal (>20%).

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Excluding investments in issuers involved in controversial activities'.

- Excluding countries.
During the reporting period, no investments have been made in countries against which arms embargoes have been imposed by the United Nations Security Council. Similarly, investments are not made in countries included in the Financial Action Task Force list, which are subject to a "Call for Action".

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Excluding investments in countries subject to country-wide arms embargo sanctions imposed by the United Nations Security Council, and countries on the Financial Action Task Force list, that are subject to a "Call for Action".

- Adhered to good governance, respecting human rights and labour rights, protecting the environment and prevention of bribery and corruption.
The Sub-Fund met this characteristic by assessing the extent to which the investee companies act in accordance with relevant legislation and internationally recognised standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Principles for Business and Human Rights and the UN Global Compact.

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Limiting investments in material

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability Indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

violators of internationally recognized standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights and UN Global Compact’.

From 21 May 2025, the Sub-Fund has committed to a minimum of 10% sustainable investments. The Investment Manager has implemented an approach to Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) considerations into its fundamental investment process as set forth below (the "ESG Criteria") over the reference period. This consisted of: (i) exclusionary screens; (ii) minimum inclusion criteria based on proprietary ESG ratings as set forth below.

As part of the ESG investment process, the Investment Manager has adhered to the ESG Criteria by avoiding investment in debt securities issued by corporate and sovereign issuers that are, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities:

- production of, and/or involvement in controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons);
- extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (thermal coal and oil sands);
- production of tobacco.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

The Sub-Fund has also excluded from its investment universe companies the Investment Manager believed to be violating the United Nations Global Compact's ten principles (which are widely recognised corporate sustainability principles that meet fundamental responsibilities in the areas of human rights, labour, environment and anti-corruption).

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies violating the United Nations Global Compact's ten principles.

Additionally, the screening process for the Sub-Fund excluded government and corporate issuers that have the lowest category of ESG ratings according to the Investment Manager's proprietary internal scoring system.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of corporate and sovereign issuers with an ESG rating of less than or equal to 1.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

... and compared to previous periods ?

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

The consideration of investments made by the Sub-Fund as sustainable investments was determined by reference to the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework, which includes an assessment as to whether the investment contributes to an environmental and/or social objective. Under this framework, an investment is considered to be contributing to an environmental and/or social objective via either a product or operational contribution.

Product contribution considers either i) the proportion of an issuer's revenue dedicated to an environmentally and/or socially sustainable impact category, ii) the alignment of a product to an environmental and/or social Sustainable Development Goal (SDG), iii) best-in-class scoring of an issue(r) as against environmental and/or social opportunities themes defined by an external data provider, or iv) the percentage of taxonomy aligned revenue of the issuer. Due to availability of reliable data, the taxonomy aligned revenue route will only be used as data improves.

Operational contribution takes a thematic approach, looking at the promotion of climate transition (environmental) within the operational framework of the issuer, inclusive growth (social) within the operational framework of the issuer, operational alignment to an environmental or social SDG, or the application of a best-in-class proprietary environmental and social score.

This Sub-Fund did not target a specific category of sustainable investments but assessed all investments made pursuant to its overall investment strategy using the Sustainable Investment Framework. Hence, the sustainable investments made by this Sub-Fund may contribute to a variety of environmental and/or social objectives of the sustainable investments.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Issuers that were classified as contributing to a sustainable investment were also required to meet the do no significant harm (DNSH) criteria of the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework. Any issuers that do not meet the DNSH test will not qualify as a sustainable investment. A proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory indicators relating to investee companies for adverse impacts on sustainability factors ("PAIs") set out in the regulatory technical standards supplementing SFDR.

Additionally, all issuers with a very severe controversy are considered to be causing significant harm and excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

This Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors across environmental and social pillars. The PAIs were taken into account through the application of the DNSH principle outlined above for the determination of sustainable investments as well as qualitatively through the Sub-Fund's investment approach.

In regard to the consideration of the PAIs as part of the DNSH assessment of an issuer, as noted above a proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory PAIs relating to investees, and is assessed using information from an external data provider. These thresholds for significant harm have been set on a relative or absolute basis against each PAI depending on the Management Company's assessment of the worst performing investments with respect to those PAIs. Where data is not available for a specific PAI a suitable proxy metric has been identified. If both PAI and proxy PAI data (where relevant) is not available and/or applicable to complete the DNSH assessment on an issuer, such issuer is generally excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

The Sub-Fund leveraged a proprietary approach to identifying and evaluating companies which, amongst other factors, are not considered to be aligned with global norms as further described below. Following this assessment, any companies which are considered to be in violation of these global norms (including the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights) were excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY           | PAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has made sustainable investments, it did not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ In fossil gas ☐ In nuclear energy
- ☒ No

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any "sustainable investments" within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

<sup>1</sup>Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change ("climate change mitigation") and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objectives - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has invested in sustainable investments, it did not specifically commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that are not aligned with the EU Taxonomy. Hence, the minimum commitment is 0%.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has made sustainable investments, it did not specifically commit to a minimum proportion of socially sustainable investments. Hence, the minimum commitment is 0%.

As noted above, whether investments made by this Sub-Fund were sustainable investments is determined by reference to the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework for assessing the contribution of investments to environmental and/or social objectives.

This product did not target one specific category of sustainable investments, but instead assesses all investments made pursuant to its overall investment strategy using the framework.

What investments were included under "other", what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under "other" included securities such as contingent capital securities, UCITs, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives for efficient portfolio management and issuers for which data was lacking or which fell into the lowest ESG category or otherwise became eligible for exclusion after purchased. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but neither promoted the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor qualified as sustainable investments.

These financial instruments were not subject to any minimum environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, assessing and promoting effective stewardship among the companies and issuers represented in the Sub-Fund was a key part of the investment process.

The Investment Manager has engaged with corporate issuers in this Sub-Fund that the Investment Manager believed to have low ESG credentials or involvement in sustainability related controversies, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a corporate issuer prior to or without engaging with such corporate issuer. Where applicable, the Investment Manager has engaged with sovereign issuers in this Sub-Fund that have a low E-score with the objective to encourage sovereigns to improve their overall environmental performance and to encourage enhanced disclosures of climate related metrics. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a sovereign issuer, where applicable, prior to or without engaging with such sovereign issuer.

The Global Stewardship Team focus on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. The engagements conducted by the Global Stewardship Team were designed to complement the engagements conducted by our investment teams. The Fixed Income Team regularly engaged with companies including in one-on-one and investor group settings to corporate issuers that the Investment Manager believed to have had low ESG credentials, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. Engagement with management teams was an important component of the fixed income research process, which often informed investment selection. It gave a unique insight into management quality, business model, financial performance and strategy and future business prospects.

The engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement at the firmwide-level, the Global Stewardship Team leverages our stewardship framework, which reflects thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement efforts, and will include environmental, social and governance matters that are considered to be principal in terms of potential adverse impacts.

How did this financial product perform compared with the reference benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the Portfolio.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial products attains the environmental or social characteristics that they promote.

ANNEX IV

Periodic disclosure for the financial products referred to in Article 8, paragraphs 1, 2 and 2a, of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 and Article 6, first paragraph, of Regulation (EU) 2020/852

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852, establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not lay down a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

☐ with an environmental objective in economic activities that do not qualify as environmentally sustainable under the EU Taxonomy

☐ with a social objective

☒ It promoted E/S characteristics, but did not make any sustainable investments

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

As the Sub-Fund closed on 17 July 2025, the reference period for the purpose of this periodic disclosure is 1 October 2024 - 30 June 2025.

The Sub-Fund promoted environmental and social characteristics during the reporting period. More specifically:

1. Limited investments in companies involved in controversial activities.

During the reporting period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in issuers that realised a certain percentage of their revenue from activities related to:

- the development, production, maintenance or trade in controversial weapons (0%);
- the controversial supply of weapons (0%);
- the production of tobacco (≥50%);
- the production of oil sands and controversial pipelines (>20%);
- the extraction of thermal coal (>20%).

This was checked daily in the Aladdin portfolio management system. Within the Management Company, the Risk Management department is responsible for these daily checks on investment restrictions. The assessment of whether companies carry out the aforementioned activities is determined on the basis of external information from ESG data providers.

The performance of this characteristic is measured with the indicator 'Excluding investments in issuers involved in controversial activities'.

2. Adhered to good corporate governance, compliance with human and labour rights, protection of the environment and prevention of bribery and corruption.

The Sub-Fund met this characteristic by assessing the extent to which the investee companies act in accordance with relevant legislation and internationally recognised standards: the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Principles for Business and Human Rights and the UN Global Compact.

This was done based on a proprietary approach that sought to identify, review, evaluate and monitor companies that were flagged by external data providers as being in violation of, or otherwise not aligned with the aforementioned Global Standards as well companies that received high controversy scores (including significant governance controversies, severe labour rights controversies and severe tax compliance controversies).

Following review of these external data inputs, companies that the Management Company believed to have an on-going and serious violation and/or were considered to not be following good governance practices with insufficient remediation were excluded from the Sub-Fund.

The performance of this characteristic is measured with the indicator 'Limiting investments in material violators of internationally recognized standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights and UN Global Compact'.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impact of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anticorruption and anti-bribery matters.

● What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

● How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not have an explicit commitment to make sustainable investments that are in line with SFDR during the reporting period.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a “do not significant harm” principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The “do no significant harm” principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

During the reporting period, elements pertaining to PAIs were taken into account as part of the investment process of the Sub-Fund. This was done mainly via restriction criteria and stewardship. In this process, the following PAIs were taken into account:

- PAI 4: Exposure to companies active in the fossil fuel sector (via restriction criteria, engagement and voting);
- PAI 7: Activities negatively affecting biodiversity sensitive areas (via engagement);
- PAI 10: Violations of UN Global Compact principles and OECD Guidelines on Multi National Enterprises (via restriction criteria, voting and engagement);
- PAI 11: Lack of processes and compliance mechanisms to monitor compliance with UN Global Compact Principles and OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises (via engagement);
- PAI 13: Board gender diversity (via voting and engagement);
- PAI 14: Exposure to controversial weapons (via restriction criteria).

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective.

Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

During the reporting period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy and therefore its alignment with the Taxonomy was 0%.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy<sup>(1)</sup>?

☐ Yes

☐ In fossil gas

☐ In nuclear Energy

☒ No

The graphs below show in green the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

● What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

● How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

Not applicable.

 are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

During the reporting period, the Sub-Fund has promoted environmental and social characteristics but did not make any sustainable investments. As a consequence, the Sub-Fund did not invest in a minimum share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

This question is not applicable as the Sub-Fund did not make socially sustainable investments.

What investments were included under “#2 Other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under 'other' were cash used for liquidity purposes, derivatives for efficient portfolio management/investment purposes and investments in UCITS and UCIs needed to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund. These investments were not subject to any minimum environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The Sub-Fund promoted environmental and social characteristics during the entire reporting period via the following actions:

1. Took ESG factors of each issuer into account in the investment decision-making process. This was a documented process but no binding outcomes were intended;
2. Limited investments in issuers involved in controversial activities;
3. Adhered to good to governance, compliance with human and labour rights, protection of the environment and prevention of bribery and corruption;
4. Preferred inclusion over exclusion through engagement.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial products attain the environmental or social characteristics that they promote.

How did this financial product perform compared to the reference benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

● How does the reference benchmark differ from a broad market index?

Not applicable.

● How did this financial product perform with regard to the sustainability indicators to determine the alignment of the reference benchmark with the environmental or social characteristics promoted?

Not applicable.

● How did this financial product perform compared with the reference benchmark?

Not applicable.

To what extent was the sustainable investment objective of this financial product met?

During the reference period, the Sub-Fund aimed to contribute to creating a more sustainable future by investing in bonds, the proceeds of which were used to finance climate and environmental projects that provided positive benefits to the environment. To achieve this, the Sub-Fund applied the Management Company's proprietary Green, Social & Sustainability Bond Assessment Methodology and invested in both new and existing projects aligned with the International Capital Markets Association (ICMA) Green Bond Principles and the following categories:

- Renewable energy
- Energy efficiency
- Pollution prevention and control
- Environmentally sustainable management of living natural resources and land use
- Terrestrial and aquatic biodiversity
- Clean transportation
- Sustainable water and wastewater management
- Climate change adaptation
- Circular economy adapted products, production technologies and processes
- Consumption and Production
- Green buildings

The performance of these characteristics are measured by the following performance indicators: Percentage invested in green bonds.

The Sub-Fund also aimed to invest in issuers that engage in economic activities contributing to climate change mitigation objectives as set out in Article 10 of the Taxonomy Regulation, and in issuers that engage in economic activities contributing to other environmental objectives as set out in Article 9 of the Taxonomy Regulation, or in economic activities contributing to other environmental objectives not covered by the Taxonomy Regulation.

The performance of these characteristics are measured by the following performance indicators: Percentage of Taxonomy alignment.

The Sub-Fund additionally has not invested in companies that are, in the opinion of the Investment

Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities, which over the reference period included but were not limited to:

- production of, and/or involvement in controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons),
- extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (including thermal coal, oil sands, shale oil and gas, arctic oil and gas),
- tobacco production,
- adult entertainment,
- fur and leather,
- firearms,
- gambling.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the sustainable investment objective of the Sub-Fund. The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the investment objective of the Sub-Fund.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Issuers that were classified as contributing to a sustainable investment were also required to meet the do no significant harm (DNSH) criteria of the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework. Any issuers that do not meet the DNSH test will not qualify as a sustainable investment. A proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory indicators relating to investee companies for adverse impacts on sustainability factors ("PAIs") set out in the regulatory technical standards supplementing SFDR.

Additionally, all issuers with a very severe controversy are considered to be causing significant harm and excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

This Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors across environmental and social pillars. The PAIs were taken into account through the application of the DNSH principle outlined above for the determination of sustainable investments as well as qualitatively through the Sub-Fund's investment approach.

In regard to the consideration of the PAIs as part of the DNSH assessment of an issuer, as noted above a proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory PAIs relating to investees, and is assessed using information from an external data provider. These thresholds for significant harm have been set on a relative or absolute basis against each PAI depending on the Management Company's assessment of the worst performing investments with respect to those PAIs. Where data is not available for a specific PAI a suitable proxy metric has been identified. If both PAI and proxy PAI data (where relevant) is not available and/or applicable to complete the DNSH assessment on an issuer, such issuer is generally excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

The Sub-Fund leveraged a proprietary approach to identifying and evaluating companies which, amongst other factors, are not considered to be aligned with global norms as further described below. Following this assessment, any companies which are considered to be in violation of these global norms (including the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights) were excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY           | PAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The Management Company calculated the Taxonomy alignment percentage based on the data provided by the issuers of the bonds.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy<sup>1</sup>?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ In fossil gas ☐ In nuclear energy
- ☒ No

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

The EU Taxonomy alignment figures which have been included within this report have been calculated based on an assessment of the use of proceeds of the bonds in the portfolio in accordance with our proprietary Green, Social and Sustainability Bond Assessment Methodology rather than being based on the Turnover, CapEx or OpEx of the issuers of the bonds. Accordingly, a breakdown of Taxonomy alignment by Turnover, CapEx and OpEx is not applicable to the portfolio.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any "sustainable investments" within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

During the reporting period the Taxonomy aligned percentage was 35.24% compared to previous reporting period 28.68%.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy was 63.19%.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has made sustainable investments, it did not specifically commit to a minimum proportion of socially sustainable investments. Hence, the minimum commitment is 0%.

As noted above, whether investments made by this Sub-Fund were sustainable investments is determined by reference to the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework for assessing the contribution of investments to environmental and/or social objectives.

This product did not target one specific category of sustainable investments, but instead assesses all investments made pursuant to its overall investment strategy using the framework.

What investments were included under "not sustainable", what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under "#2 Not sustainable" included securities such as contingent capital securities, UCITs, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives for efficient portfolio management and issuers for which data was lacking or which fell into the lowest ESG category or otherwise became eligible for exclusion after purchased. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but neither promoted the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor qualified as sustainable investments.

What actions have been taken to attain the sustainable investment objective during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, assessing and promoting effective stewardship among the companies and issuers represented in the Sub-Fund was a key part of the investment process.

The Investment Manager has engaged with corporate issuers in this Sub-Fund that the Investment Manager believed to have low ESG credentials or involvement in sustainability related controversies, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a corporate issuer prior to or without engaging with such corporate issuer. Where applicable, the Investment Manager has engaged with sovereign issuers in this Sub-Fund that have a low E-score with the objective to encourage sovereigns to improve their overall environmental performance and to encourage enhanced disclosures of climate related metrics. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a sovereign issuer, where applicable, prior to or without engaging with such sovereign issuer.

The Global Stewardship Team focus on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. The engagements conducted by the Global Stewardship Team were designed to complement the engagements conducted by our investment teams. The Fixed Income Team regularly engaged with companies including in one-on-one and investor group settings to corporate issuers that the Investment Manager believed to have had low ESG credentials, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. Engagement with management teams was an important component of the fixed income research process, which often informed investment selection. It gave a unique insight into management quality, business model, financial performance and strategy and future business prospects.

The engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement at the firmwide-level, the Global Stewardship Team leverages our stewardship framework, which reflects thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement efforts, and will include environmental, social and governance matters that are considered to be principal in terms of potential adverse impacts.

How did this financial product perform compared to the reference sustainable benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the sustainable investment objective.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial product attains the sustainable objective.

Periodic disclosure for the financial products referred to in Article 8, paragraphs 1, 2 and 2a, of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 and Article 6, first paragraph, of Regulation (EU) 2020/852

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852, establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not lay down a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

From 1 October 2024 - 20 May 2025, the Sub-Fund promoted environmental and social characteristics during the reporting period. More specifically:

- Limited investments in companies involved in controversial activities.

During the reporting period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in issuers that realised a certain percentage of their revenue from activities related to:

- the development, production, maintenance or trade in controversial weapons (0%);
- the controversial supply of weapons (0%);
- the production of tobacco (≥50%);
- the production of oil sands and controversial pipelines (>20%);
- the extraction of thermal coal (>20%).

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Excluding investments in issuers involved in controversial activities'.

- Adhered to good governance, respecting human rights and labour rights, protecting the environment and prevention of bribery and corruption.

The Sub-Fund met this characteristic by assessing the extent to which the investee companies act in accordance with relevant legislation and internationally recognised standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Principles for Business and Human Rights and the UN Global Compact.

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Limiting investments in material violators of internationally recognized standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights and UN Global Compact'.

From 21 May 2025, the Investment Manager has implemented an approach to Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) considerations into its fundamental investment process as set forth below (the "ESG Criteria") over the reference period. This consisted of: (i) exclusionary screens; (ii) minimum inclusion criteria based on proprietary ESG ratings as set forth below.

As part of the ESG investment process, the Investment Manager has adhered to the ESG Criteria by avoiding investment in debt securities issued by corporate and sovereign issuers that are, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities:

- production of, and/or involvement in controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons);
- extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (thermal coal and oil sands);
- production of tobacco.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities.

Additionally, the screening process for the Sub-Fund excluded government and corporate issuers that have the lowest category of ESG ratings according to the Investment Manager's proprietary internal scoring system, however, the Sub-Fund may have exposure of up to 10% in such corporate issuers.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of corporate and sovereign issuers with an ESG rating of less than or equal to 1, 10% allowance.

● What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

● How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not have an explicit commitment to make sustainable investments that are in line with SFDR during the reporting period.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a “do not significant harm” principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The “do no significant harm” principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

During the reporting period, elements pertaining to PAIs were taken into account as part of the investment process of the Sub-Fund. This was done mainly via restriction criteria and stewardship. In this process, the following PAIs were taken into account:

- PAI 4: Exposure to companies active in the fossil fuel sector (via restriction criteria, engagement and voting);
- PAI 7: Activities negatively affecting biodiversity sensitive areas (via engagement);
- PAI 10: Violations of UN Global Compact principles and OECD Guidelines on Multi National Enterprises (via restriction criteria, voting and engagement);
- PAI 11: Lack of processes and compliance mechanisms to monitor compliance with UN Global Compact Principles and OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises (via engagement);
- PAI 13: Board gender diversity (via voting and engagement);
- PAI 14: Exposure to controversial weapons (via restriction criteria).

The list includes the investments constituting the greatest proportion of investments of the financial product during the reference period which is: 30/09/2025

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective.

Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

During the reporting period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy and therefore its alignment with the Taxonomy was 0%.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy<sup>(1)</sup>?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ In fossil gas ☐ In nuclear Energy
- ☒ No

*The graphs below show in green the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.*

1. Taxonomy-alignment of investments including sovereign bonds***

- ☐ Non Taxonomy-aligned

2. Taxonomy-alignment of investments excluding sovereign bonds***

- ☐ Taxonomy-aligned: Fossil gas
- ☐ Taxonomy-aligned: Nuclear
- ☐ Taxonomy-aligned (no gas and nuclear)
- ☐ Non Taxonomy-aligned

This graph represents 100.00% of the total Investments.

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereigns bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies

- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.

- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852.

● What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

● How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

Not applicable.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

During the reporting period, the Sub-Fund has promoted environmental and social characteristics but did not make any sustainable investments. As a consequence, the Sub-Fund did not invest in a minimum share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

This question is not applicable as the Sub-Fund did not make socially sustainable investments.

What investments were included under “#2 Other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under 'other' were cash used for liquidity purposes, derivatives for efficient portfolio management/investment purposes and investments in UCITS and UCIs needed to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund. These investments were not subject to any minimum environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The Sub-Fund promoted environmental and social characteristics during the entire reporting period via the following actions:

1. Adhered to the ESG Criteria by avoiding investment in debt securities issued by corporate and sovereign issuers that are, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the excluded activities;
2. Excluded government and corporate issuers that have the lowest category of ESG ratings according to the Investment Manager's proprietary internal scoring system (with 10% allowance).

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial products attain the environmental or social characteristics that they promote.

How did this financial product perform compared to the reference benchmark?

Not Applicable. No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

● How does the reference benchmark differ from a broad market index?

Not applicable.

● How did this financial product perform with regard to the sustainability indicators to determine the alignment of the reference benchmark with the environmental or social characteristics promoted?

Not applicable.

● How did this financial product perform compared with the reference benchmark?

Not applicable.

● How did this financial product perform compared with the broad market index?

Not applicable.

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

The Sub-Fund promoted environmental and social characteristics during the reporting period. More specifically:

- Limited investments in companies involved in controversial activities. During the reporting period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in issuers that realised a certain percentage of their revenue from activities related to:
  - the development, production, maintenance or trade in controversial weapons (0%);
  - the controversial supply of weapons (0%);
  - the production of tobacco (≥50%);
  - the production of oil sands and controversial pipelines (>20%);
  - the extraction of thermal coal (>20%).

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

- Excluding countries. During the reporting period, no investments have been made in countries against which arms embargoes have been imposed by the United Nations Security Council. Similarly, investments are not made in countries included in the Financial Action Task Force list, which are subject to a "Call for Action".

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of excluding investments in countries subject to country-wide arms embargo sanctions imposed by the United Nations Security Council, and countries on the Financial Action Task Force list, that are subject to a 'Call for Action'.

- Adhered to good corporate governance, compliance with human and labour rights, protection of the environment and prevention of bribery and corruption. The Sub-Fund met this characteristic by assessing the extent to which the investee companies act in accordance with relevant legislation and internationally recognised standards: the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Principles for Business and Human Rights and the UN Global Compact. This was done based on a proprietary approach that sought to identify, review, evaluate and monitor companies that were flagged by external data providers as being in violation of, or otherwise not aligned with the aforementioned Global Standards as well companies that received high controversy scores (including significant governance controversies, severe labour rights controversies and severe tax compliance controversies).

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability Indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

Following review of these external data inputs, companies that the Management Company believed to have an on-going and serious violation and/or were considered to not be following good governance practices with insufficient remediation were excluded from the Sub-Fund.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in material violators of internationally recognized standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights and UN Global Compact.

- Screening carbon intensity

The Sub-Fund applied screening regarding the carbon intensity of investee companies. In line with the ambition of the Sub-Fund the carbon intensity of the Sub-Fund was lower than the universe of the applicable underlying asset classes compared to the Benchmark.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Carbon intensity score vs Benchmark.

- Sustainable Investment Framework (SI Framework)

The Sub-Fund invested in companies or projects that contributed to an environmental or social objective based on the product contribution or operational contribution.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage sustainable investments.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

... and compared to previous periods ?

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

The consideration of investments made by the Sub-Fund as sustainable investments was determined by reference to the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework, which includes an assessment as to whether the investment contributes to an environmental and/or social objective. Under this framework, an investment is considered to be contributing to an environmental and/or social objective via either a product or operational contribution.

Product contribution considers either i) the proportion of an issuer's revenue dedicated to an environmentally and/or socially sustainable impact category, ii) the alignment of a product to an environmental and/or social Sustainable Development Goal (SDG), iii) best-in-class scoring of an issue(r) as against environmental and/or social opportunities themes defined by an external data provider, or iv) the percentage of taxonomy aligned revenue of the issuer. Due to availability of reliable data, the taxonomy aligned revenue route will only be used as data improves.

Operational contribution takes a thematic approach, looking at the promotion of climate transition (environmental) within the operational framework of the issuer, inclusive growth (social) within the operational framework of the issuer, operational alignment to an environmental or social SDG, or the application of a best-in-class proprietary environmental and social score.

This Sub-Fund did not target a specific category of sustainable investments but assessed all investments made pursuant to its overall investment strategy using the Sustainable Investment Framework. Hence, the sustainable investments made by this Sub-Fund may contribute to a variety of environmental and/or social objectives of the sustainable investments.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Issuers that were classified as contributing to a sustainable investment were also required to meet the do no significant harm (DNSH) criteria of the Management Company's Sustainable Investment Framework. Any issuers that do not meet the DNSH test will not qualify as a sustainable investment. A proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory indicators relating to investee companies for adverse impacts on sustainability factors ("PAIs") set out in the regulatory technical standards supplementing SFDR.

Additionally, all issuers with a very severe controversy are considered to be causing significant harm and excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

This Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors across environmental and social pillars. The PAIs were taken into account through the application of the DNSH principle outlined above for the determination of sustainable investments as well as qualitatively through the Sub-Fund's investment approach.

In regard to the consideration of the PAIs as part of the DNSH assessment of an issuer, as noted above a proprietary quantitative or qualitative threshold for significant harm has been set for the mandatory PAIs relating to investees, and is assessed using information from an external data provider. These thresholds for significant harm have been set on a relative or absolute basis against each PAI depending on the Management Company's assessment of the worst performing investments with respect to those PAIs. Where data is not available for a specific PAI a suitable proxy metric has been identified. If both PAI and proxy PAI data (where relevant) is not available and/or applicable to complete the DNSH assessment on an issuer, such issuer is generally excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

The Sub-Fund leveraged a proprietary approach to identifying and evaluating companies which, amongst other factors, are not considered to be aligned with global norms as further described below. Following this assessment, any companies which are considered to be in violation of these global norms (including the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights) were excluded from qualifying as a sustainable investment.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY           | PAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Whilst this Sub-Fund has made sustainable investments, it did not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy?

- ☐ Yes
☐ In fossil gas ☐ In nuclear energy
☒ No

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

The two graphs below show in blue the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any "sustainable investments" within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

*Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change ("climate change mitigation") and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objectives - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

 are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy was 20.21%.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

The share of socially sustainable investments was 11.31%.

What investments were included under “other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under “other” included securities such as UCITs, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives for efficient portfolio management and issuers for which data was lacking. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but neither promoted the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor qualified as sustainable investments.

These financial instruments were not subject to any minimum environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The Management Company has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

From 1 October 2024 - 20 May 2025, the Sub-Fund promoted environmental and social characteristics during the reporting period. More specifically:

- Limited investments in companies involved in controversial activities. During the reporting period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in issuers that realised a certain percentage of their revenue from activities related to:
    - the development, production, maintenance or trade in controversial weapons (0%);
    - the controversial supply of weapons (0%);
    - the production of tobacco (≥50%);
    - the production of oil sands and controversial pipelines (>20%);
    - the extraction of thermal coal (>20%).

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Excluding investments in issuers involved in controversial activities'.

- Adhered to good governance, respecting human rights and labour rights, protecting the environment and prevention of bribery and corruption. The Sub-Fund met this characteristic by assessing the extent to which the investee companies act in accordance with relevant legislation and internationally recognised standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Principles for Business and Human Rights and the UN Global Compact.

The performance of this characteristic was measured with the indicator 'Limiting investments in material violators of internationally recognized standards, for example: OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights and UN Global Compact'.

From 21 May 2025, the Investment Manager has implemented an approach to Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) considerations into its fundamental investment process as set forth below (the "ESG Criteria") over the reference period. This consisted of: (i) exclusionary screens; (ii) minimum inclusion criteria based on proprietary ESG ratings as set forth below.

As part of the ESG investment process, the Investment Manager has adhered to the ESG Criteria by

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Sustainability Indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

avoiding investment in debt securities issued by corporate and sovereign issuers that are, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, directly engaged in, and/or deriving significant revenues from the following activities:

- production of, and/or involvement in controversial weapons (including nuclear weapons);
- extraction and/or production of certain fossil fuels (thermal coal and oil sands);
- production of tobacco.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of companies invested in that were directly engaged in, and/or derived significant revenue from excluded activities (as outlined above).

Additionally, the screening process for the Sub-Fund excluded government and corporate issuers that have the lowest category of ESG ratings according to the Investment Manager's proprietary internal scoring system, however, the Sub-Fund may have exposure of up to 10% in such corporate issuers.

The performance of this characteristic is measured by the following: Percentage of corporate and sovereign issuers with an ESG rating of less than or equal to 1, 10% allowance.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The Sub-Fund used sustainability indicators to measure the attainment of the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

The performance of the sustainability indicators can be found in the below table (See section "...and compared to previous periods").

Over the reference period, the sustainability indicators have performed in line with the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

Not applicable. The Sub-Fund did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a “do not significant harm” principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The “do no significant harm” principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors (PAIs) across the environmental and/or social pillars. PAIs are taken into account qualitatively through the application of the binding ESG criteria outlined in the prospectus. On a non-binding and materiality basis, PAIs are also considered through firm-wide and investment team specific engagement. The PAIs considered by this Sub-Fund included:

| PAI CATEGORY           | PAI                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy and therefore its alignment with the Taxonomy was 0%.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy<sup>1</sup>?

- ☐ Yes
- ☐ In fossil gas ☐ In nuclear energy
- ☒ No

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective. Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of: -turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

<sup>1</sup>Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change(“climate change mitigation”) and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objectives - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

As the Sub-Fund did not invest in any “sustainable investments” within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy, the minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy was therefore also 0%.

How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There have been no changes compared with previous reference periods.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Over the reference period, the Sub-Fund has promoted environmental and social characteristics but did not make any sustainable investments. As a consequence, the Sub-Fund did not invest in a minimum share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

This question is not applicable as the Sub-Fund did not make socially sustainable investments.

What investments were included under “other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

Investments included under 'other' encompass securities such as contingent capital securities, UCITS, UCIs, cash for liquidity purposes, derivatives (other than single named credit default swaps but inclusive of credit default swaps indices) for investment purposes or efficient portfolio management, and issuers for which data was lacking or which fell into the lowest ESG category or otherwise become eligible for exclusion after purchase. These investments were used to achieve the investment objective of the Sub-Fund but did not promote the environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund, nor did they qualify as sustainable investments. These investments were not subject to any minimum environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The Investment Manager has taken actions to ensure that the environmental and/or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund were met during the reference period. The sustainability indicators of the Sub-Fund were measured and evaluated on an ongoing basis.

GSAM used proprietary firm and third-party systems to monitor compliance with binding environmental or social characteristics of the Sub-Fund contained within the investment guidelines in line with the GSAM Investment Guidelines Policy.

Breaches or errors regarding investment guidelines (including breaches or errors regarding the binding environmental or social characteristics and minimum sustainable investment commitments of the Sub-Fund) were handled in accordance with the Management Company's Policy on Breaches and Errors and the Policy on GSAM Error Handling which also requires that employees promptly report any incidents (whether resulting from action or inaction) to their GSAM supervisors as well as GSAM Compliance. The information gathered in the incident reporting process is to ensure that clients are appropriately compensated, to assist in improving business practices and help prevent further occurrences.

Additionally, assessing and promoting effective stewardship among the companies and issuers represented in the Sub-Fund was a key part of the investment process.

The Investment Manager has engaged with corporate issuers in this Sub-Fund that the Investment Manager believed to have low ESG credentials or involvement in sustainability related controversies, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a corporate issuer prior to or without engaging with such corporate issuer. Where applicable, the Investment Manager has engaged with sovereign issuers in this Sub-Fund that have a low E-score with the objective to encourage sovereigns to improve their overall environmental performance and to encourage enhanced disclosures of climate related metrics. The Investment Manager is permitted to invest in a sovereign issuer, where applicable, prior to or without engaging with such sovereign issuer.

The Global Stewardship Team focus on proactive, outcomes-based engagement, in an attempt to promote best practices. The engagements conducted by the Global Stewardship Team were designed to complement the engagements conducted by our investment teams. The Fixed Income Team regularly engaged with companies including in one-on-one and investor group settings to corporate issuers that the Investment Manager believed to have had low ESG credentials, with the objective to encourage issuers to improve their ESG practices relative to peers. Engagement with management teams was an important component of the fixed income research process, which often informed investment selection. It gave a unique insight into management quality, business model, financial performance and strategy and future business prospects.

The engagement initiatives were continually reviewed, enhanced, and monitored to ensure they incorporated current issues, evolving views about key environmental, social, and governance topics and sustainability-related controversies. To guide engagement at the firmwide-level, the Global Stewardship Team leverages our stewardship framework, which reflects thematic priorities and guides voting and engagement efforts, and will include environmental, social and governance matters that are considered to be principal in terms of potential adverse impacts.

How did this financial product perform compared with the reference benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the Sub-Fund.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial products attains the environmental or social characteristics that they promote.

Remuneration Report - 2024 - Goldman Sachs Asset Management B.V. (Management Company)

1.1 Remuneration Disclosures

Introduction

The following disclosures are made by Goldman Sachs Asset Management B.V. ("GSAM B.V.") in accordance with the Alternative Investment Fund Managers Directive (2011/61/EU) ("AIFMD") and the Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities Directive V (2014/91/EU) ("UCITS"), as applicable, and further guidance included in the European Securities and Markets Authority ("ESMA") Guidelines on sound remuneration policies under the AIFMD (3 July 2013/ESMA/2013/232) and UCITS Directive (14 October 2016/ESMA/2016/575) (together, the "ESMA Guidelines").

1.1.1 Remuneration Programme Philosophy

Retention of talented employees is critical to executing the firm's business strategy successfully. Remuneration is, therefore, a key component of the costs the firm incurs to generate revenues, similar to the cost of goods sold or manufacturing costs in other industries.

The remuneration philosophy and the objectives of the remuneration programme for the firm are reflected in the Compensation Principles for The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. ("GS Group"), as posted on the Goldman Sachs public website:

<http://www.goldmansachs.com/investor-relations/corporate-governance/corporate-governance-documents/compensation-principles.pdf>

In particular, effective remuneration practices should:

- (i) Encourage a real sense of teamwork and communication, binding individual short-term interests to the institution's long-term interests;
- (ii) Evaluate performance on a multi-year basis;
- (iii) Discourage excessive or concentrated risk-taking;
- (iv) Allow an institution to attract and retain proven talent;
- (v) Align aggregate remuneration for the firm with performance over the cycle; and
- (vi) Promote a strong risk management & control environment.

1.1.2 Firmwide Compensation Frameworks

The Firmwide Performance Management and Incentive Compensation Framework, as amended from time to time ("Firmwide PM-IC Framework"), formalises the variable remuneration practices of the firm.

The primary purpose of this Firmwide PM-IC Framework is to assist the firm in assuring that its variable compensation programme does not provide "covered employees" (i.e., senior executives as well as other employees of the firm, who, either individually or as part of a group, have the ability to expose the firm to material amounts of risk) with incentives to take imprudent risks and is consistent with the safety and soundness of the firm.

In addition, the Goldman Sachs Asset Management B.V. Compensation Policy supplements the firm's remuneration programmes and frameworks in alignment with applicable local laws, rules and regulations.

1.1.3 Remuneration Governance

The Board Compensation Committee

The Board of Directors of GS Group (the "Group Board") oversees the development, implementation and effectiveness of the firm's global remuneration practices, and it generally exercises this responsibility directly or through delegation to the Compensation Committee of the Group Board (the "Board Compensation Committee").

The responsibilities of the Board Compensation Committee include:

- Review and approval of (or recommendation to the Group Board to approve) the firm's variable remuneration structure, including the portion to be paid as equity-based awards, all year-end equity-based grants for eligible employees and the terms and conditions of such awards.
- Assisting the Group Board in its oversight of the development, implementation and effectiveness of policies and strategies relating to the Human Capital Management ("HCM") function, including recruiting, retention, career development and progression, management succession (other than that within the purview of the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee) and diversity.

The Board Compensation Committee held 11 meetings in 2024 to discuss and make determinations regarding remuneration.

The members of the Board Compensation Committee at the end of 2024 were Kimberley D. Harris (Chair), M. Michele Burns, John B. Hess, Kevin R. Johnson, Ellen J. Kullman, Lakshmi N. Mittal, and David A. Viniar (ex-officio). None of the members of the Board Compensation Committee was an employee of the firm. All members of the Board Compensation Committee were "independent" within the meaning of the New York Stock Exchange Rules and the Group Board Policy on Director Independence.

External Consultants

The Board Compensation Committee recognises the importance of using a remuneration consultant that is appropriately qualified and is determined to be independent. The independence of the remuneration consultant is reviewed and confirmed annually by the Board Compensation Committee.

For 2024, the Board Compensation Committee received the advice of a remuneration consultant from Frederic W. Cook & Co. ("FW Cook").

Other Group Stakeholders

In carrying out the responsibilities of the Board Compensation Committee, the Chair of the Board Compensation Committee met multiple times with senior management during the year, including the firm's Chief Executive Officer ("CEO"), President and Chief Operating Officer ("COO"), the Executive Vice President and Secretary to the Board of Directors, the Global Head of HCM and Corporate Workplace Solutions and other members of senior management.

The GSAM B.V. Compensation Committee

The GSAM B.V. Compensation Committee (the “GSAM B.V. Compensation Committee”) operates in line with GS Group policies and practices.

The members of the GSAM B.V. Compensation Committee at the end of 2024 were Martijn Canisius (Chair), Anya Radford, Richard Harris, Patrick den Besten and Kameliya Evtimova. The responsibilities of the GSAM B.V. Compensation Committee include:

- Overseeing the development and implementation of the Goldman Sachs Asset Management B.V. remuneration policy (“the GSAM B.V. Compensation Policy”) and related practices of GSAM B.V. in accordance with the relevant provisions in and any other applicable law and regulation.
- Supporting the GSAM B.V. Supervisory Compensation Committee with regard to reviewing and approving the remuneration of the GSAM B.V. Board and the highest paid staff members of GSAM B.V. and the senior officers in the independent control functions.
- Preparing appropriate recommendations for holdback of deferred remuneration by way of malus and or holdback to GSAM B.V. staff, to be signed-off by the GSAM B.V. Supervisory Compensation Committee.

The GSAM B.V. Compensation Committee held 8 meetings in 2024 in fulfilment of these responsibilities.

GSAM B.V. Supervisory Compensation Committee

The GSAM B.V. Supervisory Compensation Committee oversees the development and implementation of those remuneration policies and practices of GSAM B.V. that are required to supplement the Compensation Policy of GS Group in accordance with applicable law and regulations.

The GSAM B.V. Supervisory Committee works alongside the GSAM B.V. Compensation Committee. The GSAM B.V. Supervisory Compensation Committee is chaired by Fadi Abuali.

The GSAM B.V. Supervisory Compensation Committee held 6 meetings in 2024 in fulfilment of these responsibilities.

Compensation-related Risk Assessment

The GSAM B.V. Head of Reward presented the annual compensation-related risk assessment to the GSAM B.V. Compensation Committee, to assist the GSAM B.V. Compensation Committee in its assessment of the effectiveness of GSAM B.V.’s remuneration programme, and particularly, whether the programme is consistent with the principle that variable remuneration does not encourage employees to expose the firm to imprudent risk. This assessment most recently occurred in January 2025, in respect of performance year 2024.

Global Remuneration Determination Process

The firm’s global process for setting variable remuneration (including the requirement to consider risk and compliance issues) applies to employees of GSAM B.V. and is subject to oversight by the GSAM B.V. Compensation Committee and the GSAM B.V. Supervisory Compensation Committee and ultimately the Group Board and the Board Compensation Committee. The firm uses a highly disciplined and robust process for setting variable remuneration across all regions following the processes outlined in the Firmwide PM-IC Framework.

OTHER INFORMATION TO SHAREHOLDERS (CONTINUED)

This process involves remuneration managers and compensation committees at various levels in the firm, along with the business and business unit heads, HCM and the Firmwide Management Committee (the firm's most senior leaders), as appropriate.

In addition, as part of the remuneration determination process, members of the firm's HCM, Compliance, Risk, and Internal Audit functions make arrangements for business and business unit management to take into consideration certain employee conduct, compliance, risk or control matters when determining remuneration of individuals. Before any individual remuneration decisions are finalised, HCM and Legal review remuneration recommendations to identify discrepancies or anomalies that may appear to relate to protected characteristics.

Additionally, the GSAM B.V. Supervisory Compensation Committee oversees the development and implementation of the remuneration policies of GSAM B.V., and reviews remuneration-related information during the year, including an annual compensation-related risk assessment, an overview of the firm's remuneration programme and structure, and certain remuneration data.

1.1.5 Link Between Pay and Performance

In 2024, annual remuneration for employees comprised fixed remuneration (including base salary) and variable remuneration. The firm's remuneration practices provide for variable remuneration determinations to be made on a discretionary basis. Variable remuneration is based on multiple factors and is not set as a fixed percentage of revenue or by reference to any other formula, consistent with the process outlined in the Firmwide PM-IC Framework. Firmwide performance is a key factor in determining variable remuneration.

The firm is committed to aligning variable remuneration with performance, across several financial and non-financial factors. These factors include business-specific performance (as applicable), along with the performance of the firm and the individual, over the past year, as well as over prior years.

The firm does not award multi-year guarantees as they risk misaligning remuneration and performance, and guaranteed variable remuneration should only be awarded in exceptional circumstances and limited to new hires within their first year of employment.

1.1.6 Selection and remuneration of Identified Staff

GSAM B.V. selects Identified Staff (staff whose professional activities have material impact on the risk profile of GSAM B.V.) ("GSAM B.V. Identified Staff") on the basis of both AIFMD and UCITS (being staff whose professional activities have a material impact on the AIF(s), and/or the UCITS and/or GSAM B.V., as applicable). AIFMD and UCITS Identified Staff are selected in accordance with ESMA guidelines 2013/232 and 2016/575. Under its selection methodology, GSAM B.V. considers the categories as detailed in the ESMA guidelines and conducts a review of employees who have a material impact and whose total remuneration takes them into the same remuneration bracket as senior managers and risk takers.

The applied selection methodology and selection criteria for GSAM B.V. Identified Staff were approved by the GSAM B.V. Compensation Committee.

1.1.7 Performance Measurement

Firmwide performance

The following metrics are among the firmwide financial performance measures, considered in determining amounts, although the firm does not use specific measures/targets as part of a formula<sup>(1)</sup>:

- Net revenues;
- Provision for credit losses;
- Revenues net of provision for credit losses;
- Compensation and benefits expense;
- Non-compensation expenses;
- Pre-tax earnings;
- Taxes;
- Net earnings;
- Net earnings applicable to common shareholders;
- Ratio of compensation and benefits to revenues net of provision for credit losses;
- Pre-tax margins;
- Efficiency ratio;
- Diluted earnings per share;
- Return on average common equity;
- Return on average tangible common equity;
- Change in book value per common share; and
- Standardised CET1 Ratio

<sup>(1)</sup> In certain cases, financial information was reviewed both including and excluding selected items and the FDIC special assessment fee, where applicable. Selected items include those that the firm has sold or is selling related to the narrowing of the firm's ambitions in consumer-related activities and related to the transitioning of Asset & Wealth Management to a less capital-intensive business.

Business, business unit, desk performance

Additionally, at both the business and business unit level, quantitative and/or qualitative metrics specific to such levels, respectively, are used to evaluate the performance of the business/business unit and their respective employees.

Individual performance

Employees are evaluated annually as part of the performance review feedback process. This process reflects input from a number of employees, including supervisors, peers and those who are junior to the employee, regarding an array of performance measures. The performance evaluations for 2024 included assessments of: 1) Culture as measured by adherence to our Core Values (i.e., Partnership, Client Service, Integrity, and Excellence); and 2) Compliance and Risk Management. As part of the performance review feedback process, managers with three or more direct reports are assessed and receive feedback on their performance as a manager.

The firm has implemented a number of Risk Management & Control enhancements to drive greater accountability for the quality of the firm's risk and control environment by strengthening the link with remuneration outcomes. These enhancements have included a suite of non-financial risk and control metrics which were reflected in performance assessments for covered employees of GSAM B.V.

Performance Management for Identified Staff

The performance management principles (as outlined in the GSAM B.V. Compensation Policy and applicable to GSAM B.V. Identified Staff) ensure that there is focus on financial and non-financial performance, strong leadership, behaviour and reinforcement of the strategy. The principles also create alignment with the AIF and UCITS risk profile. The performance objectives include both financial and non-financial performance objectives as follows:

- A maximum of 50% financial objectives for non-control functions Identified Staff;
- A maximum of 15% financial objectives for control functions;
- Control functions will only have financial performance objectives that are not linked to the performance of the business unit they control.

GSAM B.V. promotes robust and effective risk management. This includes risk management of sustainability risks (such as environment, society, governance and people-related matters). It supports balanced risk-taking and long-term value creation. This will be supported, among others, by the processes related to determining performance targets that can be linked to variable remuneration. Investment professionals are required, and all staff are encouraged to incorporate objectives related to sustainability and the integration of sustainability risks.

All GSAM B. V. Identified Staff are considered to be Covered Employees and thereby subject to the firm's enhanced evaluation processes concerning risk and control behaviour.

1.1.8 Risk Adjustment

Prudent risk management is a hallmark of the firm's culture and sensitivity to risk and risk management are key elements in assessing employee performance and variable remuneration, including as part of the performance review feedback process noted above.

The firm takes risk, including conduct risk, into account both on an ex-ante and ex-post basis when setting the amount and form of variable remuneration for employees. As indicated in the Firmwide PM-IC Framework, different lines of business have different risk profiles that inform remuneration decisions. These include credit, market, liquidity, operational, reputational, legal, compliance and conduct risks.

Guidelines are provided to assist remuneration managers when exercising discretion during the remuneration process to promote appropriate consideration of the different risks presented by the firm's businesses. Further, to ensure the independence of control function employees, remuneration for those employees is not determined by individuals in revenue-producing positions but rather by the management of the relevant control function.

Consistent with prior years, for 2024 certain employees received a portion of their variable remuneration as an equity-based award that is subject to a number of terms and conditions that could result in forfeiture or recapture. For further details, see "Structure of Remuneration" below.

In the 2024 annual compensation-related risk assessment presented to the Board Compensation Committee, meeting jointly with the Risk Committee of the Group Board, GS Group's CRO confirmed that the various components of the firm's remuneration programmes and policies (for example, process, structure and governance) balanced risk and incentives in a manner that does not encourage imprudent risk-taking. In addition, the CRO stated that the firm has a risk management process that, among other things, is consistent with the safety and soundness of the firm and focuses on our:

- (i) Risk management culture: the firm's culture emphasises continuous and prudent risk management;
- (ii) Risk-taking authority: there is a formal process for identifying employees who, individually or as part of a group, have the ability to expose the firm to material amounts of risk;
- (iii) Upfront risk management: the firm has tight controls on the allocation, utilisation and overall management of risk-taking, as well as comprehensive profit and loss and other management information which provide ongoing performance feedback. In addition, in determining variable remuneration, the firm reviews performance metrics that incorporate ex-ante risk adjustments; and
- (iv) Governance: the oversight of the Group Board, management structure and the associated processes all contribute to a strong control environment and control functions have input into remuneration structure and design.

The GSAM B.V. Compensation Committee also reviewed the annual compensation-related risk assessment with respect to GSAM B.V.

1.1.9 Structure of Remuneration

Fixed Remuneration

The firm has a global salary approach to ensure consistency in salary levels and to achieve an appropriate balance between fixed and variable remuneration.

Variable Remuneration

For employees with total remuneration and variable remuneration above specific thresholds, variable remuneration is generally paid in a combination of cash and equity-based remuneration. In general, the portion paid in the form of an equity-based award increases as variable remuneration increases and, for GSAM B.V. Identified Staff, is set to ensure compliance with the applicable rules of the AIFMD and UCITS Directive.

The variable remuneration programme is flexible to allow the firm to respond to changes in market conditions and to maintain its pay-for-performance approach. Variable remuneration is discretionary (even if paid consistently over a period of years).

Equity-Based Remuneration

The firm believes that remuneration should encourage a long-term, firmwide approach to performance and discourage imprudent risk-taking. One way the firm achieves this approach is to pay a significant portion of variable remuneration in the form of equity-based remuneration that delivers over time, changes in value according to the price of GS Group shares of common stock and/or the performance of GSAM B.V. funds, and is subject to forfeiture or recapture. This approach encourages a long-term, firmwide focus because the value of the equity-based remuneration is realised with a dependency on long-term responsible behaviour and the financial performance of the firm.

To ensure continued alignment to the investment activities of GSAM B.V., staff eligible for equity-based remuneration (including GSAM B.V. Identified Staff) are generally awarded both GS Group Restricted Stock Units ("RSUs") and Phantom Units under the Goldman Sachs Phantom Investment Plan ("GSAM B.V. Phantom Unit Plan"), described further below.

The firm imposes transfer restrictions, retention requirements, and anti-hedging policies on RSUs to further align the interests of the firm's employees with those of its shareholders. The firm's retention and transfer restriction policies, coupled with the practice of paying senior employees a significant portion of variable remuneration in the form of equity-based awards, leads to a considerable investment in shares of GS Group over time.

- GSAM B.V. Identified Staff upfront award: For GSAM B.V. Identified Staff, the upfront part of the award consists of cash and GSAM B.V. Phantom units. These Phantom Units are tied to the performance of funds managed by GSAM B.V. and vest immediately upon grant. A 12 month retention applies over all upfront GSAM B.V. Phantom Unit awards.
- Deferral Policy: The deferred portion of fiscal year 2024 annual variable remuneration was generally awarded in the form of RSUs and GSAM B.V. Phantom Units. An RSU is an unfunded, unsecured promise to deliver a share on a predetermined date. RSUs awarded in respect of fiscal year 2024 generally deliver in three equal instalments on or about each of the first, second and third anniversaries of the grant date, and GSAM B.V. Phantom Units generally vest in three equal instalments on or about each of the first, second and third anniversaries of the grant date, assuming the employee has satisfied the terms and conditions of the award at each such date.
- Transfer Restrictions for RSUs: The firm generally requires certain individuals to hold a material portion of the shares they receive in respect of RSUs granted as part of their year-end remuneration according to the firm's global deferral table. These transfer restrictions apply to the lower of 50% of the shares delivered before reduction for tax withholding, or the number of shares received after reduction for tax withholding. Because combined tax and social security rates in the Netherlands are close to 50%, transfer restrictions apply to substantially all net shares delivered to employees resident in the Netherlands.

An employee generally cannot sell, exchange, transfer, assign, pledge, hedge or otherwise dispose of any RSUs or shares that are subject to transfer restrictions.

- Retention Requirement: For certain individuals the firm requires that the GSAM B.V. Phantom Units awarded in relation to their variable remuneration will remain subject to a 12-month retention period after vesting. All GSAM B.V. Phantom Units awarded to GSAM B.V. Identified Staff are subject to this retention requirement.
- Forfeiture and Recapture Provisions: The RSUs and shares delivered thereunder and GSAM B.V. Phantom Units awarded in relation to variable remuneration are subject to forfeiture or recapture if the Board Compensation Committee or its delegate(s) determine(s) that during 2024 the employee participated (or otherwise oversaw or was responsible for, depending on the circumstances, another individual's participation) in the structuring or marketing of any product or service, or participated on behalf of the firm or any of its clients in the purchase or sale of any security or other property, in any case without appropriate consideration of the risk to the firm or the broader financial system as a whole (for example, if the employee were to improperly analyse risk or fail sufficiently to raise concerns about such risk) and, as a result of such action or omission, the Board Compensation Committee or its delegate(s) determine(s) there has been, or reasonably could be expected to be, a material adverse impact on the firm, the employee's business unit or the broader financial system.

This provision is not limited to financial risks and is designed to encourage the consideration of the full range of risks associated with the activities (for example, legal, compliance or reputational). The provision also does not require that a material adverse impact actually occur, but rather may be triggered if the firm determines that there is a reasonable expectation of such an impact.

The Board Compensation Committee previously adopted guidelines that set forth a formal process regarding determinations to forfeit or recapture awards for failure to consider risk appropriately upon the occurrence of certain pre-determined events (for example, in the event of annual firmwide, business unit and below or individual losses). The review of whether forfeiture or recapture is appropriate includes input from the CRO, as well as representatives from Legal Division, as appropriate. Determinations are made by the Board Compensation Committee or its delegates, with any determinations made by delegates reported to the Board Compensation Committee.

All variable remuneration granted to GSAM B.V. Identified Staff is subject to forfeiture or recapture in the event of a "material failure of risk management", or in the event that the employee engages in "serious misconduct", at any time during the seven year period after grant (equity-based awards) or payment (cash).

Additionally, RSUs and shares delivered thereunder and GSAM B.V. Phantom Units awarded in relation to variable remuneration are subject to forfeiture or recapture if it is appropriate to hold an employee designated as GSAM B.V. Identified Staff accountable in whole or in part for an "adjustment event" that occurred during 2024. This may include conduct which resulted in a material loss of capital or a material relevant regulatory sanction for the firm.

An employee's GSAM B.V. Phantom Units and/or RSUs may also be forfeited, and respectively become repayable or shares delivered thereunder recaptured if the employee engages in conduct constituting "cause" at any time before the Phantom Units are payable or RSUs are delivered and any applicable transfer restrictions lapse. Cause includes, among other things, any material violation of any firm policy, any act or statement that negatively reflects on the firm's name, reputation or business interests and any conduct detrimental to the firm.

With respect to all of the forfeiture conditions, if the firm determines after delivery or release of transfer restrictions that an RSU or share delivered thereunder or GSAM B.V. Phantom Unit should have been forfeited or recaptured, the firm can require return of any shares delivered or repayment to the firm of the fair market value of the shares or GSAM B.V. Phantom Units when delivered or paid (including those withheld to pay taxes) or any other amounts paid or delivered in respect thereof.

- Hedging: The firm's anti-hedging policy ensures employees maintain the intended exposure to the firm's stock performance. In particular, all employees are prohibited from hedging RSUs, including shares that are subject to transfer restrictions. Employees may hedge only shares that they can otherwise sell. However, no employee may enter into uncovered hedging transactions or sell short any shares. Employees may only enter into transactions or otherwise make investment decisions with respect to shares during applicable "window periods".
- Treatment upon Termination or Change-in-Control: As a general matter, delivery schedules are not accelerated, and transfer restrictions are not removed, when an employee leaves the firm. The limited exceptions include death and "conflicted employment." A change in control alone is not sufficient to trigger acceleration of any deliveries or removal of transfer restrictions; only if the change in control is followed within 18 months by a termination of employment by the firm without "cause" or by the employee for "good reason" will delivery and release of transfer restrictions be accelerated.

1.1.10 Quantitative Disclosures

Remuneration over 2024

Over 2024, GSAM B.V. has awarded a total amount of EUR 117,21 mln to all employees. This amount consists of fixed remuneration of EUR 86,96 mln. and variable remuneration of EUR 30,25 mln. Per 31 December 2024 this concerned 709 employees and 5 board members of GSAM B.V. The majority of employees spend their time on activities that are directly or indirectly related to the management of the funds. In total GSAM B.V. awarded remuneration exceeding EUR 1 mln. to 2 employees.

From the above mentioned amounts, total remuneration for the board members is EUR 3,77 mln., of which fixed remuneration is EUR 1,79 mln. and variable remuneration is EUR 1,98 mln.

Remuneration paid or awarded for the financial year ended 31 December 2024 comprised fixed remuneration (salaries, allowances and director fees) and variable remuneration. Information of fixed remuneration and variable remuneration is not administered on fund level, resulting in the costs above to be disclosed on aggregated total management company level.

Aggregated fixed and variable remuneration over 2024

The following tables show aggregate quantitative remuneration information for all GSAM B.V. Identified Staff selected on the basis of AIFMD and/or UCITs for the performance year 2024.

Note (2) Variable remuneration includes all payments processed through payroll per respectively January 2025 (table 1 for performance year 2024) or January 2024 (table 2 for performance year 2023) and all conditional and unconditional awards in relation to the respective performance year, including RSUs, GSAM B.V. Phantom Units (a reference to the allocated Funds is not available) and carried interest.

Remuneration information third parties

GSAM B.V. has (partly) outsourced its portfolio management activities to third parties. For each of these parties a Portfolio Management Agreement (PMA) has been arranged. The PMA guarantees efficient and effective services in accordance with the set agreements with these third parties. The services offered by these third parties based on the PMA are evaluated annually by GSAM B.V.

The transparency that GSAM B.V. maintains with regard to the applied remuneration policy also includes transparency regarding the remuneration policy of third parties who carry out portfolio management activities for GSAM B.V. By doing this GSAM B.V. is aligned with the guidance from the European regulator (ESMA). GSAM B.V. annually requests information from third parties in order to be able to evaluate the services and information about the applied remuneration policy by the third party is included in this request.

The overview below provides information on the remuneration policy from the parties to whom Goldman Sachs Asset Management B.V. has (partly) delegated portfolio management activities for AIFs and UCITS.

This includes delegated portfolio management services provided by Goldman Sachs Asset Management International and Goldman Sachs Asset Management (Singapore) Pte. Ltd., for which the services have been considered on an AIF/UCITS by AIF/UCITS basis and an estimated split for each AIF/UCITS has been incorporated into the calculations below. The pro rata remuneration is calculated by dividing the assets managed by the delegated portfolio manager on behalf of the AIF(s)/UCITS managed by GSAM B.V. by the total (strategy) assets managed by the delegated portfolio manager.

Comments:

<sup>(2)</sup> In accordance with the UCITS regulation, the expected level of leverage is outlined in the above for the sub-funds using the VaR approach. The expected level of leverage is expressed as the ratio between the market risk exposure of the sub-fund's positions in derivatives and its net asset value. The ratio is calculated in accordance with the commitment method ("net approach") and the sum of notional method ("gross approach"). While the net approach takes into account netting and hedging arrangements, the gross approach does not take into account such arrangements, hence triggering results that are generally higher and not necessarily representative from an economic exposure point of view. Irrespective of the approach used, the expected level of leverage is an indicator and not a regulatory limit. A sub-fund's observed level of leverage may be higher than the expected level as long as it remains in line with its risk profile and complies with its VaR limit. Depending on market movements, the expected level of leverage may vary over time. In case no derivatives positions are included in the portfolio, the base value for the leverage is "0" (i.e. 0%). The leverage ratio aims to approximate the impact of the use of derivatives instruments on the overall market risk of a given sub-fund.

For a complete picture of the risk profile associated to each sub-fund, please refer to the risk profile section disclosed in each sub-fund's Factsheet of the Prospectus.

Portfolio Turnover Ratio

The Portfolio Turnover Ratio is an indicator of the relevance of the additional costs incurred by a fund when buying and selling investments according to its investment policy.

The Portfolio Turnover Ratio is calculated using the method described below:

$$\text{Turnover} = [(Total\ 1 - Total\ 2)/M] * 100$$

Total 1 = Total securities transactions during the period = X + Y

X = purchases

Y = sales

Total 2 = Total capital transactions during the period = S + R

S = subscriptions

R = redemptions

M = Average Net Assets

The Portfolio Turnover Ratio is expressed as a percentage. The Portfolio Turnover calculation excludes the trades instructed into Goldman Sachs Funds VI which are linked to cash facility management.

As at 30 September 2025, the Portfolio Turnover Ratio is as follows:

* Refer to Note 1 Organisation for more details.

Total Expense Ratio is calculated using the following formula: the sum of 12 months of operational expenses<sup>(a)</sup>/average Relative Net Assets<sup>(b)</sup>.

Information to Shareholders

Under the Belgian Finance Act of 22 December 2003, that came into effect on 1 January 2004, a 0.06% yearly tax was applied on all money originating from Belgium included in the Company at 31 December of the prior year. This tax rate has been increased to 0.07% in 2005, to 0.08% in 2007, to 0.0965% in 2013 and decreased to 0.0925% from 2014 onwards. The Company has lodged a complaint with the European Commission against the Belgian State for this tax to be recognised as contravening the Community law. That complaint has been rejected by the European Commission. Following another complaint introduced by the Company before the Belgian Courts, the Brussels Court of First Instance has delivered a positive judgement condemning the Belgian State to refund the amounts unduly paid. The Belgian State has, however, appealed against that decision. On 29 November 2018, the Court of Appeals of Brussels rendered its decision. The decision of the Court upheld the judgement of the Brussels Court of First Instance which had ordered the Belgian State to reimburse the Belgian yearly tax levied on the Luxembourg fund. The Belgian State has filed an appeal before the Belgian Supreme Court. On 13 April 2022 the decision of the Belgian Supreme Court was published: the Supreme Court annulled the Brussels Court of Appeal's positive decision, so basically denying a refund to claimants. On 7 November 2024 and 17 September 2025, the Liege Court of Appeal upheld the decisions of the Belgian Supreme Court, confirming that claimants are not entitled to a refund. We, as Management Company of the Fund, have decided to further appeal these decisions before the Belgian Supreme Court and the appeals are ongoing.

Securities Financing Transaction Regulation ("SFTR")

Securities Financing Transaction Regulation ("SFTR") introduces reporting requirements for Securities Financing Transactions ("SFTs") and total return swaps in the framework of transparency of securities financing transactions and of reuse.

A Securities Financing Transaction (SFT) is defined as per Article 3(11) of the SFTR as:

- repurchase/reverse repurchase agreement;
- securities or commodities lending and securities or commodities borrowing;
- buy-sell back transaction or sell-buy transaction;
- margin lending transaction.

As at 30 September 2025, the sub-funds held securities lending and total return swaps as a type of instruments under the scope of the SFTR.

As at 30 September 2025, all the securities lending trades have an open maturity.

As at 30 September 2025, the maturity of each Total Return Swap is disclosed in the Schedule of Investments of each sub-fund.

For the sub-fund Goldman Sachs Alternative Beta, the maturity of the total return swaps is between one month to one year.

Safekeeping of Collateral Granted

The collateral granted is on a title transfer basis and the sub-fund can recover this collateral at any time. The counterparty only has the obligation to return the same amount back to the sub-fund and the sub-fund cannot request to return this amount "at any time" as long as there is exposure to the underlying transaction.

There was no collateral granted during the year ended 30 September 2025.

Returns/Costs

The net returns presented in the Securities Lending part cannot be compared to the securities lending income from Securities Financing Transaction Regulation ("SFTR") part because of timing difference related to communication and processing of data between the parties involved.
